'DIALOGUE' SPEAKER

Mrs. Kenneth Stratton, representing the League of Women Voters, was one of nine panelists who spoke during the public forum, "Dialogue with the Community," held in Warren County Court House Tuesday night. The program, sponsored by the Warren County Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the county commissioners, presented representatives from various community organizations. The main scheduled topic of discussion dealt with ways to make Warren County a better place to live and work. (Photo by Mahan)

Community Leaders Discuss Functions of Organizations

Speakers from nine community organizations Tuesday night discussed how their groups were functioning to make Warren County a better place to live and work.

During a public forum, "Dialogue with the Community," held in Warren County Court House, a variety of community problems were aired, ranging from public parks and parking to care of the elderly and the youth of the community. About 20 persons attended the program.

The program was sponsored by the Warren County Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Warren County Commissioners. Welcoming remarks were made by John D. Haggerty Jr., Chamber of Commerce president, and Dr. David Rice, chairman of the Warren County Commissioners.

John Lutz, immediate past president of the chamber, served as moderator for the session.

Speakers included: Jerry Archibald, Citizens Advisory Committee; Richard Brown, Economic Opportunity Council; Dr. Roger Mesmer, Experience Inc.; Ralph Freeman, Forest Service; Mrs. Kenneth Stratton, League of Women Voters. Dr. Thomas Barratt, superintendent of county schools; Winston Teague, chamber Transportation Committee; Mrs. Harry Segel, Warren Housing Inc., and Jacob Levinson, Warren Parking Authority.

A question-and-answer period following the five-minute talks made by each speaker found Dr. Barratt answering questions on student behavior and school curriculum and Levinson answering several questions on parking problems.

Dr. Barratt explained the school disorders partially resulted from kids congregating away from the neighborhoods where the animosity developed. He said the youth of today is demanding alternatives and is not interested in learning by rote.

Levinson said meter revenue was the greatest source of funds

High Court Justices Reject Ethics Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court justices have rejected a plea by Chief Justice Earl Warren that they adopt immediately a code of conduct to restrict their off-bench activities.

Instead, by majority vote, they have decided to postpone further consideration until next term — when Warren will have retired.

The decision was announced in a 113-word statement from the court. With it came an even terser statement from Justice Thurgood Marshall that he has decided to abide by restrictions placed on lower federal judges.

All eight justices attended the conference, held at the court last Friday. The statement did not say how they lined up on the matter.

Earlier this month the U.S. Judicial Conference forbade federal judges to accept outside fees and required them to file annual financial reports. The conference claims no authority over the Supreme Court justices.

Warren "suggested the propriety of the justices taking similar action," Tuesday's statement said. It continued:

"Some of the justices agreed as we are now approaching the end of the term and because there will be a new chief justice and associate justice on the court when it convenes in October that no action in the matter need be taken before that time.

subject, a majority of the justices agreed to this course of action."

Two Women Missionaries Caught in Arab-Israeli Clash

JERUSALEM (AP) — an American woman tourist on her second day in Israel was killed Tuesday and another woman was wounded by Arab artillery shells fired across the Israeli-Jordanian cease-fire line on the northern shores of the Dead Sea.

Killed was Shirley Anderson, 26, Rochester, N.Y. Her friend, 27-year-old Elaine Bonnet, Lodi, Calif., suffered an injury to her left arm and is recovering in Jerusalem's Hadassah Hospital.

The Israeli army said the shells came from guns of Iraqi troops stationed inside Jordan.

The two women were mission teachers on leave after two years in Kinshasa in the Congo. They arrived in Israel Monday. Miss Bonnet, describing how it happened, told a newsman they had driven to the Dead Sea from Jerusalem in a taxi. They were in a waterside restaurant at Kallia when the shelling started.

"We got flat on the floor and remained there," said Miss Bonnet. "The guide told us to keep our heads down."

"Then there was a lull and we decided to try to get away to Jericho."

"We were going to the taxi when the shooting started again. Shells were falling and we hurried for shelter in the restaurant, but just as we were at the entrance shells started falling there."

In a voice trembling with emotion, she added: "I wasn't badly hurt but Shirley got a lot of shrapnel. She was bleeding heavily. I just kept my head down."

"We tried to get her away from the car and the fire. But she had lost too much blood,"

TWA Jet with 80 Aboard Is Hijacked to Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A Trans World Airlines jetliner carrying 80 passengers was hijacked to Cuba Tuesday and Havana authorities took into custody a tall Negro wearing a dark suit and a dark felt hat, officials said.

Radio Havana said the Boeing 707 was piloted by a lone gunman armed with a revolver, but the official voice of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's regime did not identify him further.

J. M. Frazier of the Federal Aviation Administration said the plane, TWA's flight 154, departed Oakland, Calif., at 12:10 p.m. EDT en route nonstop to Kennedy Airport in New York, and was diverted an hour later, while over Wilson Creek, Nev. It landed at 6:29 p.m. on an airstrip heavily puddled by rain, according to witnesses.

An airline spokesman said the plane's pilot, Capt. George Behnke of New York, "was very phlegmatic about the whole thing" and gave no details about the number of hijackers involved or weapons used.

Frazier, area manager for the FAA at Miami, said the plane was given clearance via Goodland, Kan., Jacksonville, Fla., and Miami for its direct flight, Havana's Jose Marti Airport.

Aboard were 79 paying passengers, the seven crewmen and a hostess-trainee riding as a passenger, said TWA. The crew is York-based.

The plane was the 27th commercial airliner hijacked to Havana this year. Six other attempts failed. It was the second TWA plane hijacked. The first was taken to Cuba last Dec. 11 while on the inaugural flight on a new route between Nashville, Tenn., and Miami.

House Committee Okays Extension Of Tax Surcharge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Extension of the income tax surcharge and the rest of President Nixon's anti-inflation fiscal package, practically unchanged, was approved Tuesday by the House Ways and Means Committee.

It was a solid victory for the administration over liberal Democrats who wanted to limit the surtax extension to a few months to keep up pressure for early tax reform.

However, acting Chairman Hale Boggs, D-La., who favored the longer extension, told newsmen he expects a tough fight in the House when the measure is voted on next week. There is substantial opposition also in the Senate.

The package approved by the committee includes:

— Continuation of the surtax at the 10 per cent rate through Dec. 31 and at 5 per cent through June 30, 1970.

— The Nixon proposal for a special low income allowance to give relief to some 13 million individuals and families at the lower end of the scale, taking about 2 million families living in poverty entirely off the tax rolls. This would take effect next Jan. 1.

— Repeal of the investment credit by which businesses recoup up to 7 per cent of their outlays for equipment.

— Postponement for a year of scheduled reductions in excise taxes on automobiles and telephone service.

The key vote on a proposal to extend the surtax only through Oct. 31 was reported unofficially to be 15 to 10, with five Democrats joining all 10 Republican members of the committee in carrying the longer extension.

This meant that only one-third of the Democratic members favored the longer extension—a circumstance opponents will use as ammunition.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D. Ohio, one of the committee members in opposition, said he will try to have the Rules Committee bring up the bill under procedures allowing a House vote for a shorter extension. If this fails, he said, he and his associates may try to persuade the House to overrule the committee.

The low income allowance, in combination with the existing minimum standard deduction, would be calculated generally to eliminate from taxation the income of those at or below the officially determined poverty line. Above this level, the allowance would scale down and finally disappear.

Thus, for example, a couple

Nixon Orders Review Of Biological Warfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has ordered a sweeping review of the nation's chemical and biological warfare policies, the White House announced Tuesday.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler indicated one question would be whether the development and testing of weapons in the chemical and biological fields are necessary and proper.

As a part of the study, the administration will take a new look at the official position regarding the 1925 Geneva protocol aimed at curbing military efforts in this area. The United States never has signed the protocol.

Ziegler said the review, which he said was ordered "just recently," will be conducted by the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, and the State and Defense Departments.

Their findings will be forwarded to the National Security Council for consideration.

A number of congressmen have been increasingly critical in recent months about American endeavors in the field of chemical and biological warfare.

Asked why Nixon had decided a complete review was needed at this time, Ziegler said simply, "It's quite obviously a matter to be studied."

He indicated the subject has been raised at past NSC meetings.

Security Council Session Called on Missile Curb Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon slated a National Security Council session Wednesday on U.S.-Soviet missile curb talks and will hold a nationally broadcast news conference at 7 p.m. EDT Thursday, the White House announced.

It seemed unlikely that the single council meeting will be sufficient to complete the wide-ranging U.S. strategic arms review looking toward talks with the Russians.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that while the group composed of the President's top diplomatic, military and intelligence advisers "will be discussing certain aspects of the SALT (Strategic Arms Limitation Talks) . . . I would imagine there would be further discussion in the Security Council following tomorrow's meeting."

The presidential spokesman added that Nixon planned no opening statement at his meeting with newsmen in the White House East Room, but will go directly to questions. It will be Nixon's first Washington news conference since April 18.

Critics have accused the Nixon administration of foot-dragging on beginning the long-awaited discussions with the Soviets on curbing the spiraling arms race between the two nuclear superpowers. Some experts regard the proposed talks as potentially the most significant in the history of disarmament efforts.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson reached agreement in principle with the Soviets on holding such talks. But the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia last August derailed plans to open discussions last year.

The Nixon administration launched its own stem-to-stern review of the U.S. security position when the new President took office in January, meanwhile saying it would be ready to open the parley with the So-

Powell Hails Decision As Victory for Americans

BIMINI, Bahamas (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, once barred from his congressional seat on charges of misconduct, said Tuesday the decision in his case by the U.S. Supreme Court was "a victory for 220 million Americans."

The court ruled that the Harlem Democrat's constitutional rights were violated when he was denied his seat in March 1967 for alleged misuse of public funds.

"It was a landmark decision," Powell told a news conference on this little Bahamian island, a favorite hangout where he went into seclusion following his exclusion from Congress.

"It established that there are three coequal branches of government," Powell said. "The justices reaffirmed in majestic grandeur that they are the third branch."

"From now on, 220 million Americans will know that the Supreme Court is a place where you can get justice."

Powell said he would consult with his lawyers over the issues of $55,000 in lost pay, recovery of a $25,000 fine imposed by the House, and loss of his chairmanship of the House Education and Labor Committee.

"The money is not important," the New York congressman said.

"These are secondary matters; my lawyers will go into later."

"We are moving on now into Washington, going back to sense the picture, feel the pulse."

He has no appointments in Washington, he said, but expects to have no trouble getting together with House Democratic leaders Wednesday to discuss his future status.

Dedication of New Y'ville VFD Building Slated for Sat.

YOUNGSVILLE — Chester J. Henry, of Wynnewood, Pa., will be the keynote speaker at dedication ceremonies for the new Youngsville Volunteer Fire Department headquarters on Saturday, June 21. Henry, a professional engineer and former chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is a Youngsville native whose distinguished career began with summer jobs on the railroad track here. He retired from his executive position with the PRR, where he had charge of all construction projects, in December 1965.

A graduate of the University of Cincinnati, Ohio, Henry was a member of the first class to take a cooperative engineering course in the United States—a course which was the forerunner of the many such programs now in operation.

"We invited Mr. Henry to come and speak at our opening because he probably went as far as any man from this town has ever gone in his career," said fire chief Lee Sittler. "We know he will appreciate the construction job that has been done here."

Blacktop was laid yesterday on the 256-ft long emergency driveway from the five engine bays of the new facility to East

Main st., Youngsville, in readiness for the first time that the firehouse equipment will roll over it, shortly before the official opening and dedication ceremonies next Saturday, June 21, at 2 p.m.

The vehicles, including the recently-purchased ambulance, will move parade-style from the old firehouse (built in 1901) on Railroad St. by way of the municipal parking lot and Ford Street to East Main and thence the little more than one block distance to the new headquarters. They will be preceded by musicians of the Youngsville High School band.

The equipment will line up on the new blacktop to await the ribbon cutting by fire chief Lee Sittler, which will be the signal for the electrically-operated overhead doors to open and admit them.

Raymond Barton, one of 18 firemen more than 25 years' service, will be master of ceremonies. Marine Corps personnel from Jamestown, N.Y., will perform the flag-

OBITUARIES

Dr. Norman Charles Morgan, 50, Dies After Long Illness

Dr. Norman Charles Morgan of Chautauque, N.Y., died at WCA Hospital in Jamestown, N.Y. on June 17, 1969, after a long illness.

Dr. Morgan was born on April 13, 1919, in Hanover, N.H., the son of Mary Granger Morgan and the late Dr. Frank Millett Morgan.

He attended Clark School in Hanover, N.H., and received his A.B. degree from Cornell University in 1941. Prior to receiving his associate medical degree from Dartmouth College in 1942, Dr. Morgan attended the University of Virginia. He was awarded his Medical degree from the University of Colorado in 1944. He served his internship and his residency in internal medicine at the USPHS Marine Hospital in Seattle, Wash. He became senior medical assistant at the USPHS Narcotics Hospital in Lexington, Ky. Dr. Morgan was a veteran of World War II, serving with the U.S. Coast Guard in the Pacific Theater. He was discharged with the rank of Captain.

In 1949, Dr. Morgan went to the Warren State Hospital where he served from 1951 to 1953 as staff psychiatrist at that institution. He was clinical director, from 1953-56 and director of education, 1956-59. In 1959 he entered full-time private practice in Jamestown, N.Y.

Dr. Morgan did graduate work in psychiatry at the Graduate School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania, the Graduate School of Medicine at Columbia University and Western Psychiatric Institute in Pittsburgh, Pa. He was a certified member of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

He published many articles, among them: "Psychosis Resulting From Barbiturate Withdrawal," "The West Can Learn From The East," "Preparation for Specialty Certification," "Failure in Psychiatric Chronic Hospital Patients."

Dr. Morgan was a member of the American Medical Association, the American Psychiatric Association, the State Medical Society of Pennsylvania, the Medical Society of the State of New York, the Pennsylvania Psychiatric Association, the Warren County Medical Society, the Jamestown Medical Society and the Chautauque County Medical Society. He was a consultant for the Gustavus Adolphus Children's Home in Jamestown, N.Y., and the State University of New York at Fredonia. He was a Fellow of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

He was a member of the Conewango Club, a former secretary-treasurer of the Civic Club of North Warren and a member of the First United Presbyterian Church in Warren, Pa.

Dr. Morgan was actively involved in sports, arts and music. He and his wife composed a libretto for the opera, "The Thirteen Clocks," based on James Thurber's story. The premiere was performed by the Little Orchestra Society in New York City in 1957.

For many years he was the author of the weekly newspaper column, "Everyday Psychology."

Dr. Morgan conducted a pioneer radio documentary series on Mental Health, which was distributed internationally as a public service program by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. Morgan is survived by his wife, Maritza Leskovar Morgan, two sons, 1st Lieutenant U.S.A., Vincent L. Morgan and Christopher H. Morgan; two daughters, Mrs. Robert A. Colman and Miss Catherine Anne Morgan; a grandson, Jonathan Samuel Colman; his mother, Mrs. Mary G. Morgan; a brother Dr. M. G. Morgan of Hanover, N.H.; several nieces and nephews.

A memorial service will be held at Hurlbut Memorial Methodist Church, Chautauque, N.Y., on Thursday, June 19 at 3:00 p.m. Graveside services and interment will be in Randolph Center, Vt., Mon. June 23 at 10:30 a.m.

The family requests that remembrances be made by gifts to the American Cancer Fund and the Heart Fund. There will be no local visiting hours.

Mrs. Marion T. Fuller

Mrs. Marion T. Fuller, RD 1, Depot Rd., Harborcreek, Pa., died early Tuesday morning at Hamot Hospital in Erie. She was born Sept. 10, 1918 in Millcreek Township, Erie County. She was a member of the South Harborcreek United Methodist Church, the Lydia Circle of the South Harborcreek United Methodist Church and the Harborcreek Firemen's Auxiliary and the Bowling League. She was also a former Rainbow Girl. Survivors include her husband, C. Marshall Fuller; two sons, Robert E. of Erie and John C. of Harborcreek; two daughters, Carol M. and Sue E. of Harborcreek; her mother, Mrs. Burnett E. Hagle of RD 1, Pittsfield; one brother, Robert F. Hagle; and one grandson, Robert F. Fuller.

Friends may call at the W. Allen Firman Funeral Home, 1216 Bartlett Road, Harborcreek, Pa., on Wednesday and Thursday from 2 to 9 p.m. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday, with interment in Laurel Hill Cemetery. The Rev. Miles McConnell will officiate.

Memorials may be made to the Erie Unit of the American Cancer Society or to the South Harborcreek United Methodist Church Memorial Fund.

Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson Offer Controversial Reading Daily in the Warren Times-Mirror and Observer for the authority. He said shoppers liked to visit downtown Warren on Saturday for their needs and the parking problem was less acute, due to the non-retail, downtown employees being home and not using parking space.

Dialogue

The premium parking rates should be higher, perhaps a quarter an hour, he emphasized so the person who wanted to pay that price to park would find places available.

Dr. Barratt, during his scheduled talk, said the county comprised the 18th largest school district in the state, and 600 professional persons gave teaching services to 11,000 students. He described how the greater part of the funds spent for teacher salaries is funneled back into the local economy, and described how the preschool and post-school education is being extended.

Levinson spoke on the creation of the parking authority and its function. "Too many cars," created the parking problem, he said. He said the authority was sound fiscally, its debts of about $200,000 were balanced by its worth of about $400,000.

Freeman, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest Service, gave the history and background of the forest service and how the Forest was created in 1923. He told of the vast assets of the forest, how its 750,000 acres has been visited by about 2,000,000 people the past year.

Archibald said the Citizens Advisory Committee served as a consultant group in dealing with the problems and needs of the community. He said it worked to plan projects and on projects that were underway.

Dr. Mesmer told how Experience Inc. dealt with problems in geriatrics, and care of the elderly. He said Experience Inc. had opened its doors last October, and worked with more than 200 old persons, giving them recreational outlets, instruction in arts and crafts and providing recreation.

He spoke on proposed mini-buses for shut-ins to bring such persons to the center, or at least out of their cooped-in environment.

Mrs. Stratton said the League of Women Voters was a non-partisan national organization that might support issues but never individual candidates. She told of the voter's guide in the Warren Times-Mirror and Observer, local programming and the government directory among both league projects.

Mrs. Segel outlined the function of the Warren Housing Authority Inc., since its inception, especially in the fields of housing for the handicapped and elderly, low income and middle income housing, and other facts of housing.

Teague spoke briefly on transportation, highways and the prospect of Appalachia Funds for the Scandia Road.

Brown outlined the work of the Office of Economic Opportunity, including Head Start, Manpower and the hiring of teenagers for summer jobs.

Borough Manager Frank Strang spoke briefly from the floor. He told how Council is working to remove the Fourth ave. tracks, in answer to a question to the parking.

Nixon

viets by late spring or early summer.

Wednesday's Security Council meeting marks the final phase of the Nixon review and administration officials now are expected to start the talks with the Soviets by late July or early August.

Once the Security Council completes the job, Nixon is expected to tell U.S. envoys to arrange with the Russians a specific time and place for the talks. Geneva, Moscow, Washington and Vienna have all been mentioned as possible meeting places.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers advised Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin of the status of U.S. preparations last week prior to Dobrynin's return to Moscow for consultations.

Meanwhile the American ambassador at North Atlantic Treaty Organization headquarters in Brussels has been giving periodic reports on the progress of the U.S. review and has solicited comments from the allies. Ziegler said U.S. consultations with the allies "on this subject," will become more intensive in the weeks ahead as the United States shapes its negotiating position.

The imminence of the U.S.-Soviet talks is one of the factors apparently taking steam out of the drive on Capitol Hill to kill Nixon's proposed Safeguard antiballistic missile program.

Opponents of the Nixon ABM have contended, among other things, that the administration should get into the disarmament talks the Soviets first before deciding on deployment of an ABM. Senate ABM critics were reported Tuesday to be losing ground in their campaign against the administration's program.

with two children would pay no income tax if their income were not above $3,500. At that level, the tax is now $74. Such a family would get some tax reduction so long as its income did not exceed $4,500.

The committee wrote one provision into the bill not recommended by the administration. It would allow businesses purchasing equipment to abate air or water pollution to depreciate the full expenditure for tax purposes in the specially short time of five years.

The cutoff date was made retroactive to midnight April 18. The date was advanced by two days from the original proposal because, some sources said, of especially heavy equipment ordering during those two days. Equipment firmly ordered before the cutoff date will be eligible for investment credit.

TV Guide Loses 139,000 Copies In Truck Fire

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — State police said a truck carrying TV Guide and Life magazines for the U.S. Post Office caught fire Tuesday on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Initial estimates placed damage to the magazines at $50,000. Police said there was about $5,000 damage to the truck which burst into flames near the New Stanton interchange.

The post office department in Pittsburgh said the truck was on its way to the Youngstown, Ohio, post office.

The driver of the truck, Winford N. Knight, of Rt. 1, Manning, W. Va., was not injured, police said.

The fire was put out by members of the Youngwood volunteer fire company.

TV Guide announced in Radnor, Pa., it planned to go to press immediately to replace the 139,000 copies destroyed in the fire.

WANTED! Votes for Amy!

AMY PETCHEL

Lindsay Holds Lead At Half-Way Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay held a lead over State Sen. John J. Marchi in the Republican mayoral primary with half the vote counted Tuesday night.

The lead in the Democratic race saw-sawed between liberal Puerto Rican-born Herman Badillo and conservative, Italian-born Mario A. Procaccino, with former Mayor Robert F. Wagner close behind.

Badillo was the surprise in the Democratic race. The 39-year-old Bronx borough president is a one-time protégé of Wagner. Wagner was making a comeback bid four years after he finished three terms in City Hall.

Author Norman Mailer and Rep. James H. Scheuer never figured in the Democratic race.

Voter turnout was heavy on a mild, pleasant day.

Lindsay, 47 and a national figure, faced his challenge from Marchi, also 47, a virtually unknown state senator from Staten Island.

Marchi, who had the endorsement of the Conservative party, ran a low-decibel campaign in bidding for the votes of those alienated by events of the Lindsay years in office.

Lindsay has the Liberal party nomination so both he and Marchi can be on the ballot again in

Jamestown Airport Loses Tax Status

FALCONER — The Town of Ellicott officially notified the City of Jamestown Tuesday that the tax exempt status of Jamestown Municipal Airport is over. In a letter to Charles Magnuson, Ellicott Supervisor Frederick Mattison said the Town Board was ending its tax-exempt status of the airport property because it did not have adequate control of the property.

The Ellicott officials advanced the claim of, "taxation without representation," since no one from the Town of Ellicott serves on the Municipal Airport Commission.

Mattison did say, however, the tax exempt status would continue if the Town of Ellicott could have a voting member on the Airport Commission.

William Blood, Jamestown corporation counsel, said Tuesday such an appointment is not possible under the city charter. The charter specifies all members of the Airport Commission must reside in the city of Jamestown.

Mayor Magnuson estimated the city's newest tax bill at $7,000 or about a 10 cents raise per $1,000 assessed valuation for city taxpayers.

Duquesne Dancers On Russian Tour

MOSCOW (AP) — The "Tamburitzans," a song and dance ensemble from Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, arrived Tuesday for a month-long tour of the Soviet Union.

The band will give its first performance in Leningrad Thursday and return to Moscow to start a run June 26.

After that the 44-member troupe, will appear in Yalta, Sochi, Yerevan, Tbilisi and Baku.

The ballet and choir, under the direction of Walter Kolar with choreographic assistance from Richard Crum, put on a colorful show Monday night in the Warsaw Drama Theatre in Poland. All 1,000 tickets had been sold out a week before.

Cuban Cars Rare

HAVANA (AP) — Traffic lights are becoming obsolete in Cuba. The Transport Ministry reported Tuesday. There isn't enough traffic any more.

Gasoline rationing and fewer operating cars have cut the traffic flow.

Parachutist Killed

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Robert Worthington, 18, of Fort Collins, Colo., was killed Tuesday when his parachute failed to open during an 8,000-foot free fall at nearby Butler Township.

Food Stamp Plan Starts In County August 1

The Federal Food Coupon Plan will start in Warren County on August 1, 1969. The plan, approved by the County Commissioners, replaces the surplus food program and is so designed that eligible Warren County families can eat better and spend less, according to the letter being sent out this week by the commissioners.

The letter explains that food coupons will work only if eligible families use them. "If everyone gets the coupons who is entitled to receive them," the letter states, "we will have better-fed citizens, healthier citizens and an improved community."

The letter explains that persons need not be on public assistance to get food coupons. Take-home pay and the number of persons in the household determine who is eligible to receive these coupons.

A table is included in the letter to enable families to determine whether or not they are eligible for food coupons. The table covers from one person with monthly take-home pay of not more than $130, with savings (liquid assets) of not more than $1,000 to 10 persons in the home with take-home pay of not more than $505 a month and liquid assets of not more than $1500.

Applicants will learn at the public assistance office how many coupons they can buy and how many they can get free. Twice a month recipients will receive a card to take to a bank to buy coupons and to get free coupons. Although buying coupons is limited to twice a month, persons can shop whenever they want and buy what they want, as long as it is not imported foods or non-foods. The number of coupons paid for and the number received free depends on the size of the family and take-home pay.

Persons reporting to the public assistance office at 117 Market st., Warren, should bring with them proof of income for every member of the family, proof of money in the bank, personal identification and rent or mortgage receipts.

Youngsville Sets Sales Festival

The Youngsville's Businesspeople's Association is sponsoring a three-day sidewalk sales festival, starting Thursday, June 19, and continuing through Saturday, June 21, in honor of the Youngsville Volunteer Fire Department and the opening of the new fire house.

Local church and social groups are participating by invitation of the 38 business organizations, and will have booths along the downtown sidewalks. The Brokenstraw Garden Club will sell flowers and plants; the First United Methodist Church, Mary Martha Circle, the Lady Gray Rebecca Lodge, the Pittsfield EUM Churchwomen, and the Golden Age Club will all have bazaars and bake sales of home-made products. Typical of their offerings is the afghan, displayed by the Rebecca in the ABC store window.

The Episcopal Churchwomen will have a snack bar; the Key Club will sell popcorn; the Youngsville EUM Youth Fellowship will dispense pizza and pop; and the Pittsfield Elementary School PTA will hold a strawberry festival on the front lawn of the Robert Knapp residence. Bake sales will also be provided by the YHS majorettes, color guard, and cheerleaders, Irvine boyscout troop 22, and Youngsville Preschool Mothers Club.

Saron Lutheran Churchwomen will sell New Testaments. The Circle 8 square dance club will conduct street dancing Friday from 7 to 9 p.m. near the American Legion Home. Charles Engstrom has organized the festival, the second of its kind in Youngsville.

raising ritual. Raymond and Jack Wentzel, Brokenstraw Valley residents who laid all the masonry for the new structure in three months, will apply the final touch, the laying of the corner stone.

Brief speeches will be made by Robert Wilder, president, National Forge Co.; George Hamberger, chief, Erie Fire Department; Ernie Fitzgerald, chief, Warren Fire Department; Ernest McGraw, mayor of Youngsville; Frank Hendrickson, president, Youngsville borough council; Robert Thompson, chairman of the firehouse fund drive, Wallace Long, president, Youngsville Volunteer Fire Department, and Claire Schnell, chairman, finance committee.

More than 50 area fire companies have been invited to attend the ceremonies. Open house will be observed from 1 until 6 p.m. on Saturday, with cake, coffee and pop provided and organ music contributed by Katherine Vicander and Robert English.

There will be free dancing in the 48 ft. by 75 ft. recreation room, from 8 p.m. until midnight, to the music of the Van Tassel Trio of Warren. On Sunday, open house with appropriate hospitality will be observed again, from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. All area residents are invited to visit and tour the new facilities, begun 11 months ago and financed by a $134,000 public subscription campaign.

Reagan Rescues Girl Swimmer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, a life guard in his youth, jumped fully clothed into his swimming pool and rescued a 7-year-old girl in water over her head, his office said Tuesday.

Reagan saved Alicia Berry, daughter of a Negro file clerk in his office, in the Sunday incident. The clerk, Mrs. Marlene Murphy, was among 200 attending a staff party at the Reagan home.

Mrs. Murphy said Alicia, who doesn't swim, was at the side of the pool, reached to get onto a plastic raft and went down in four feet of water.

"He dived in clothes and all," Mrs. Murphy said of the governor.

Reagan was a lifeguard at a river park in Illinois during summers while he went to high school and college.

Donnelly Works

For Mental Funds

Commissioner Thomas Donnelly plans to attend meetings in Harrisburg June 23, 24 or 25 to talk with legislators regarding adequate state funds for the county mental health-mental retardation program and state hospitals.

The meetings are being sponsored by Pennsylvania Mental Health, Inc., of Philadelphia, and attendance is being urged because of a financial crisis facing the mental health and retardation programs in the budget.

In a legislative news letter being circulated by Pa. Mental Health, it is stated that the state fiscal year is rapidly approaching with no indication that a budget will be passed. This means, the bulletin states, that the Mental Health/Mental Retardation Act of 1966 won't be effectively implemented on July 1.

This means, the bulletin outlines, that there will be no money available to finance new services under the legislation; state hospital and school employees will not receive pay increases they have been promised; the slated opening of 19 new mental health centers this year will be delayed; state hospitals won't have funds to add even one employee, even where patients face unsafe living conditions because one nurse is sometimes responsible for 500 patients.

The bulletin has urged all of Pennsylvania citizens concerned with these services to express their thoughts to legislators about the importance of obtaining $34.9 million for the program by July 1; the significance of not compromising the care to be given in the county program; and the need for $163.1 million so that all state mental hospitals can achieve the noticeable advance made in several institutions.

Mid East

Miss Bonnet, pale and with her arm strapped up, joked in a message for relatives at Lodi: "There's nothing the matter with my pitching arm."

She said that both teachers had planned to return to the Congo after their vacation.

"Now I'll probably return home," she added.

Doctors said Miss Bonnet's arm was not seriously injured and she would be able to leave the hospital in four or five days.

Both women had taught children of U.S. missionaries, diplomats and servicemen at the American School in Kinshasa.

Israeli army helicopters moved in after the shelling stopped to evacuate the casualties.

Moshe Kol, Israeli tourism minister, visited Miss Bonnet in the hospital, taking her gifts of a book and chocolates.

"Just yesterday I was saying how Jordan and Israel could cooperate in tourism and this is their reply," he said.

Kallia is a popular tourist resort with a health spa. It is less than a mile from the ceasefire line along the Jordan River.

Israeli army sources said the shells were identified as from Soviet-made 122mm guns which are used only by Israelis.

The army said an Iraqi artillery unit is stationed north of the Dead Sea. The firing lasted for about 30 minutes. An Israeli civilian working with the army also was wounded.

Negro Students Playing Bigger Roles on Campus

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Negro students, a rarity on predominantly white college campuses in the South little more than a decade ago, are playing increasingly important roles in student government affairs at some schools.

A number sit on student councils and student courts in a policy making or judicial capacity. Many are the first of their race to serve in such posts and they're getting good grades from university officials for their classroom work.

"The election of Negro students to office works well at Emory," said Charles Beall, dean of men, of Emory University, a suburban Atlanta school where a Negro is president of the sophomore class.

"They do their jobs well and are well respected," he added. A spokesman at Florida State University said Negroes have been active in student government since 1964 and contribute a great deal.

The first Negro to win a campuswide election at the University of Texas is Ernest L. Haywood, 21, elected two months ago as vice president of the student body. Haywood defeated a white opponent in a runoff, 5,984 to 3,187.

About 300 of the University of Texas' 32,000 students are Negroes.

James Baxter, a 26-year-old Air Force veteran, is the new president of the University of Tennessee Student Government Association and apparently the highest ranking Negro student officer at predominantly white Southern colleges and universities.

He defeated two white candidates in a campaign in which he said he ran as a student, "not as a Negro."

Joseph B. Floyd was elected president of the sophomore class at Emory after serving in a similar capacity for the freshman group last year. He is one of only about 10 Negroes in a class of about 600. The university has 5,500 students, about 50 of them Negro.

About 300 Negroes were among the approximately 20,000 students at the University of Tennessee's Knoxville campus when Baxter was elected.

"I never thought much about being the first Negro to run, or to be elected," he said. "I was running as a candidate, as a student, not as a Negro."

Baxter campaigned on a platform of student power and freedom for students, arguing the present student government is powerless and subservient to the school administration.

Haywood, a member of the Afro-Americans for Black Liberation at the University of Texas, says his connection with that group undoubtedly hurt him. He missed a clear majority in the first race of four candidates by only 37 votes.

He said he probably picked up some votes on the novelty of being Negro, but "I definitely lost some because I'm black and I'm in AABL."

Like Baxter, Haywood doesn't think student government is especially powerful or very effective, but "it's the only thing we have."

"You can have all the demonstrations and rallies you want," he added, "but all they can do is create an awareness."

Warren By-Pass Bids in Order

The current plan for the Warren by-pass, according to information received from the Department of Highways in Franklin, is to accept bids and award contracts during the last three months of this year.

The by-pass will start at the Warren Motel, follow the existing route east to Warren Concrete Products, with an interchange at Ludlow st. cross over the Allegheny River and end at Main st. The design for this by-pass will be completed in the near future.

The design for the Main st. extension to Rogertown, according to the Franklin office, should be completed in 1970.

The department estimates two years will be required for construction of the Warren by-pass after bids are accepted.

VC Troops Back in Force Atop Ap Bia Mountain

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops are reported back in force atop Ap Bia Mountain and a U.S. general says he is ready to fight for the peak again, "if it takes an entire division."

U.S. intelligence sources said Tuesday up to 1,000 of the enemy had returned to the 3,000-foot mountain. Its capture by U.S. paratroops last month cost 50 American and more than 600 North Vietnamese lives and sent shock waves echoing all the way to Washington.

U.S. warplanes have been drawing enemy ground fire in recent days when they flew near the mountain in the A Shau Valley.

News that the enemy was back brought a quick response from Maj. Gen. John M. Wright, commander of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division stationed in that area.

"I am prepared to commit everything that it takes, up to the entire division to do the job," Wright told a reporter.

When Ap Bia was taken last month, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., told the Senate that it was "senseless and irresponsible" for Americans to spend so many lives capturing "hills and positions that have no relation to ending the conflict."

The capture of Ap Bia was defended by Maj. Gen. Melvin L. Zais, who was commander of the 101st at the time. Zais declared that it was his job to attack and destroy the enemy wherever they are.

The U.S. Command took the wraps off a new allied drive in the A Shau Valley in which 2,000 paratroops are participating.

The sweep, launched June 8, takes up where Operation Apache Snow left off the previous day.

Called Montgomery Rendezvous, it is located on the opposite side of the valley from Ap Bia. In the 10 days since it began, paratroops of the 3rd Brigade of the 101st, have killed 106 North Vietnamese, the U.S. Command said. American casualties were placed at 21 killed and 130 wounded.

In other action near the demilitarized zone, 180 North Vietnamese were killed when they tried to flee a trap set by U.S. Marines after being mauled by government infantrymen, U.S. spokesmen reported.

They said the Marines killed 122 North Vietnamese regulars and lost 18 killed and 23 wounded in the second stage of the battle.

A government spokesman said the enemy regiment had suffered 58 men slain in the first stage when it clashed with troops of the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division.

Continued Disputes Mark End Of Communist Conference

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow's International Communist "unity" conference ended Tuesday with majority support of a policy document, agreement on convening another parley, and continued disputes on many questions.

The Soviet Union, seeking to reassert its once-unquestioned role as world Communist leader, failed to get the unanimity reached in previous conferences.

Moscow originally had hoped the 75-party meeting would condemn Red China, but the final policy document omitted mention of Peking. Several parties had threatened not to sign it if it attacked China.

Even after settling for a bland document, the Soviets could not convince at least nine parties to endorse the entire document at the meeting.

A further sign of disunity was the boycott of the 13-day conference by China, Albania, Yugoslavia, North Vietnam, North Korea, Japan, and Holland. Cuba and Sweden sent only observers.

It was considered unusual that the text of the final document was not disclosed. In past conferences, the final document is reported with great fanfare.

Despite the problems, a communiqué hailed the closed-door conference in the Kremlin as "a major event" and "an important stage on the road of strengthening the cohesion of the Communist movement."

It said the delegates unanimously agreed to convene another conference, this one a world anti-imperialist congress open to all Communists, including those who had boycotted this meeting. It did not say when and where the new parley would be held.

On the 42-page basic conference document adopted Tuesday, the communiqué did not specify how many parties signed it. A conference spokesman also declined to say, despite repeated questions at a news conference.

He noted only that the Dominican Republic's party did not support it, the Cuban and Swedish observers did not sign, and Britain and Norway postponed a decision on signing until discussing it at home. He said support for only one part—on the joint struggle against imperialism—was expressed by Italy, Australia, San Marino and French island Reunion in the Indian Ocean.

The Italian Communist party, largest in the West, disagreed with the document's Soviet-line analysis of the world situation and relations between parties. The Italians had openly reaffirmed their "grave dissent" over the invasion of Czechoslovakia, and their criticism of the document was believed based on a concern that its wording tried indirectly to justify the invasion.

Romania which implied, but did not explicitly repeat, its own earlier attacks on the invasion, took a similar stand to that of Italy against the document.

Romania and Italy also charged that the many attacks on China in speeches by pro-Soviet parties hurt chances for unity.

Employment Regulations To Be Discussed at Seminar

Regulations covering the employment of minors and women as well as benefits for all workers will be discussed June 19 at St. Marys in a seminar sponsored by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association.

The day-long meeting, which will begin at 9 a.m. in the St. Marys Country Club, will attract scores of PMA members and insured from 10 north central counties. They are: Clarion, Cameron, Clearfield, Elk, Forest, Jefferson, McKean, Potter, Venango and Warren.

The seminar is one in a series being held throughout Pennsylvania in the PMA's continuing program to improve business and worker relations, according to President James F. Malone.

Mrs. Katherine G. Parsons, director of PMA's Employers' Advisory Division, will moderate a panel during the morning session. PMA secretary John H. Seeton will guide the afternoon panel.

Mrs. Parsons will be joined by Mrs. Betty Fahnestock, director of Labor Standards in the State Labor and Industry Dept.; Charles Angell, eastern region director of the Wage and Hour Division in the U.S. Labor Dept.; and Lester Jackson, PMA assistant claims manager.

They will discuss work hours and conditions for minors, employment certificates, the Child Labor Law, the Fair Labor Standards Act, insurance coverage, the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, the Equal Employment Opportunities Act and civil rights.

Seeton's panelists will be Jackson, David L. Johnson, manager of PMA's Loss Prevention and Technical Service Dept.; and Jacob S. Sharrach, director of Occupational Health Services for the PMA Insurance Co.

The Cat Man says: "Are you killing your cat with kindness?"

Did you discover his favorite food, and feed him only that? Like plain chicken? Plain tuna? Plain kidneys? Cats are difficult creatures. They pick a favorite food, and stick to it. When that happens, they could be in trouble. That's why every Tabby product has at least 2 different foods in it. (A one-food diet is not good for cats.)

And when you feed him Tabby Treat he gets five different foods. Meat & Fish & Chicken & Liver & Kidney. With every bite, he's getting vitamins, minerals, and extra nutrition. The extra ingredients in every can make Tabby taste better.

The Present Generation

What's wrong with the upcoming generation? This is a question being asked more and more in these days of college riots and incidents such as we had locally at the newly constructed community swimming pool. And so many other incidents that occasionally raise the eyebrows of the oldsters in the community.

What is wrong with the present generation would be a better question. For while youth has always had its fling, there has never been an era when they were so disrespectful of parental guidance and resentful of these regulations we deem necessary to maintaining law and order.

Why is this so? Mostly, it seems, because the present generation has discarded the principles and values that were so highly considered in the past. There was a time when "a man's word was his bond," when a family's reputation gained more respect than their worldly possessions, when it was no disgrace to be a child of a minority or poverty stricken family, when

Investments—Antiques

A pair of cedar waxwings by the late Edward Marshall Boehm, of Trenton, N.J., was sold early this year by a major New York auction house for $19,000; only two years ago, a similar pair of the same decorative birds was sold for $4,200. A pair of sugarbirds by the same artist at the same auction went for $14,000; this type had fetched just $3,500 two years ago. And the owner of a pair of song sparrows, worth $2,000 one decade ago and $18,000 in 1967, this year turned down a bid of $45,000. If you are among the millions of Americans looking for a medium in which to invest part of your nestegg for safety, for protection against inflation and for a hefty profit too, I'll wager you hadn't considered porcelain sugarbirds or cedar waxwings as "just the place!"

But small fortunes are being made by sophisticated collectors of Boehm birds, antique furniture, snuff boxes, paperweights, Oriental rugs, many other similarly far-out investments. To give you intriguing examples of soaring prices for antiques:

+ A pair of carved 17th Century English silver tankards (drinking mugs) which went for $47,700 in 1963, was auctioned late last year in London for $134,400. Just last year, the overall category of old English silver rose 60 per cent in value over '67, according to the authoritative London Times-Sotheby Index of such values. Silver candlesticks climbed a full 56 per cent in 1968; silver coffee pots, 96 per cent; silver tankards, 82 per cent; silver sauce boats, 63 per cent.

+ Early this year, a Philadelphia Chippendale highboy brought $60,000 at auction in New York and many Chippendale pieces are now selling for double or triple their prices of five years ago.

+ The best Oriental rugs have more than doubled in retail price in the past five years and some command more than $10,000 today.

+ Last year, an 18th Century American Paul Revere tea set brought $70,000 at New York's Parke-Bernet Galleries—double the amount experts had predicted—and a five-inch sugar tong fetched a staggering $5,250. The prices of some antique American silver pieces have doubled or more in the past five years alone.

+ Exceptional pieces of 18th Century French furniture are now being sold for over $100,000. Single 18th Century French chairs bring as much as $5,000-$10,000. The whole category of French 18th Century French 18th Century furniture is now valued at more than four times its value as recently as 1950. And certain specialized categories, such as chests and cabinets, are six to eight times above their value in the early 1950s.

+ Since 1950, Chinese porcelain has multiplied 15½ times in value, according to the Sotheby Index. English glass has multiplied 8½ times in the same period (this glass rose 40 per cent just in 1968.)

So it goes -- and it is going this way in almost every class, period and price range of antiques today.

The reasons are simple and apparently fundamental: first, the supply of antiques is strictly limited; second, an inflation-conscious investing public has concluded that antiques are an attractive haven for savings and has begun to stampede toward them.

In this atmosphere, you -- the would-be investor in antiques or the relatively naive owner of potentially valuable items trying to decide whether or not to hold on or to sell now -- stand to win or lose financially.

Which it is and to what extent will depend on whether you know and follow the basic rules for investing in antiques in this era.

Tomorrow's column will give you, the amateur investor in antiques, important clues gathered from top sources in this field.

The Clock Is Your Enemy

Dear Graduate: You are now a B.S., the opposite of what you may turn out to be. You are around 23 years of age and you know everything about everything. Well, almost. You are now at the bottom of a sunny hill. I'm across the peak, lounging in the dark cool of evening.

If you would listen for a moment, I would tell you a truth. An insidious truth. Your true and only enemy is the clock. It is a slow instrument which says nothing but "tick" and "tock," but it will someday bow your head, muzzle your mouth and bewilder your mind. It will take the bloom of youth and confidence from your face and replace it with the tic-tac-toe games of time.

This is the function of the clock. It will not retreat one second in all the millennia to come. It will cut you down, replace your future with a past, and put you under the sod. At the age of sixty, you have spent 20 years sleeping, 20 more growing up and 20 trying to leave your mark on our cave.

The clock has a round, almost cherubic face with hands which creep around its cheeks. If you stare at it, you will see the larger of the two hands snap from one minute to the next, and, while you were staring, you wasted one of the 36,800-000 minutes the life insurance actuaries assert that, with luck, you will enjoy.

Your time of life is the most difficult. It is a period of transition between the storage of facts and philosophies and the use of them. You have been given tools by dedicated teachers and parents, and each of you will bend these tools to his individual aspirations. Would you be shocked if I were to tell you that you are a member of the wrong family of animals—the one which invented initiative thinking, deduction and the recording of experience through the use of alphabets and numerals?

His is the only breed which kills its own. In World War I, it required $50,000 to kill one man. Today a multiple-headed hydrogen bomb can kill a million people at a dollar a head. Am I being cynical if I say that this is progress?

Our thought processes have become so archaic that, when we require a more sophisticated computer, we ask an old gray-haired one to design it. You distrust my generation. Keep your distrust. Hang onto it. True progress comes with lonely meditation, and you begin by murmuring ten thousand times: "I am my brother's keeper. I am." You must do a better job than we did or you are going to lose your playground.

And yet I do not apologize for my generation. Take a look at the record. We are responsible for penicillin, the diesel engine, the jet, radio, television, flights to the moon, the sulfonamides, bigger ears of corn, stronger wheat, the heart transplant, creature comforts beyond belief and—oh yes, the Pill. One more thing. We spawned you. Once, you looked up to us with hope. Now we look to you with hope. You must realign the wheels on this planet. Nothing matches. Tongues are alien to each other. The weak fear the strong; the strong spend their precious blood trying to outgun each other.

Use the clock to correct these things. Do not permit it to use you. In 25 years you and your fellows will be running the world. There is little time for you to get ready. If you fail, your children will be cynics and will grow up to spit in your eye.

You may despise a person or an idea or even a government, but never a people. Germany and Japan lost a war, but both are now rich enough to lend money to the winners. Four thousand years ago, the Chinese said that he who strikes the first blow concedes that he has lost the argument.

The United Nations is a conversation piece. Men speak with bitterness and we feel safe as long as they keep talking. This forces us to fear dead silence. The trouble with man is that he is basically a reactor. He waits for something to happen, and then plans to do something to remedy it. He has never learned to plan his future in concert with other nations.

You can correct this. Don't shake your head no. You must. The reason why God permits 102 boys to be born for every hundred females, is because He knows that two boys will die at maturity, thus making the score even. You must concede that this is planning of a superior order.

While you have been reading this, you have wasted four and a half precious minutes of your life. . .

Could Block Patman's Probe

WASHINGTON — Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, plans to dig into a very important, little known factor behind the 8½ per cent prime interest rate charged by the big New York banks.

Patman has been a lifelong foe of high interest rates, points out that the zooming rates have increased the national debt to a point where it costs the taxpayers $15 billion more per year.

But, in this case, Patman has tracked down the fact that the big New York banks had complained to the Federal Reserve Board that its anti-inflation measures were hurting them more than smaller banks. The big banks found it difficult to raise the money required by their blue-chip customers. So rather than risk a drop in their own profits, the big banks upped their interest rates to the highest point in American history.

They have also warned privately that there will be more rate increases if the Federal Reserve Board continues the tight-money pressure.

Patman proposes to probe this. He is worried over what higher interest rates will do to the installment buying of homes, automobiles, refrigerators, TV sets and other appliances. It could, he thinks, lead to a series recession.

Whether Patman can stage a probe, however, will be interesting. It so happens that at least 100 Congressmen own stock in banks. Several others conceal banking interests in the names of relatives. Even more Congressmen collect legal fees from financial institutions. A spotcheck of 50 Congressional law firms revealed that 40 of them represent banks.

In addition, the American Bankers Association, Mortgage Bankers Association, American Industrial Bankers Association, the U.S. Savings and Loan League, have been quite generous in handing out lecture fees to members of Congress. The U.S. Savings and Loan League, for example, paid Republican Senate Leader Everett Dirksen a whopping $3,500 fee for a speech.

Patman's own Banking and Currency Committee is also stacked with members who own stock in banks. It will be interesting to see whether he is able to get his investigation off the ground.

Outstanding Fiddle Session

HARRISBURG—It is becoming increasingly clear that Pennsylvania's lawmakers are well on their way toward marking their current 1969 legislative session as one of the most outstanding fiddle sessions of contemporary times!

A half year is about to pass the scoreboard and this session has yet to act on any great outstanding pieces of legislation. While the new fiscal year starts in less than two weeks and the fiscal bingling is still in the stage of non-solution that existed nearly six months ago. Neither the budget nor a tax program have gained legislative approval.

Ironically, while Pennsylvania's legislative braves fume and fuss and mew over "unjust criticism", legislatures in most other states long since have closed shop and gone home. In actuality, the length of a legislative session becomes academic; the time element is not too critical a point -- but what is critical is the "constructiveness" of activity during a legislative period, either for gun-running TV footage, underwrote an anti-Castro invasion force, then pulled out at an overall loss of $100,000. . . In many cases, nations got the wrong weapons, such as Saudi Arabia which purchased Lightning jets, though it had no pilots to fly them; and Guinea which purchased mobile anti-tank guns, though none of its neighbors operated tank units to threaten Guinea. . . Peru purchased two old cruisers for $5 million each, though it had trained personnel to operate only one at a time. . . The demise of Chancellor Erhard's government in West Germany in 1966 was due largely to his purchase of American military equipment which Germany did not need, did not want and could not afford. . . Even Congressman Rivers, No. 1 protector of the military, will learn a few things from this book.

+ Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, president of Nationalist China, has vetoed the Nixon administration's proposal to recognize Mongolia.

Mongolia is the pro-Russian desert country, once, part of China, which forms a buffer between China and Russia. The State Department wanted to have more American influence in this strategic part of the world. Our Asian allies also favored extending our influence there.

But there was one objector—namely, Chiang Kai-shek. And his influence with President Nixon was enough to override all the White House advisers and all our Asiatic allies.

When Nixon was a practicing lawyer he represented Pepsi-Cola. And when Coca-Cola was about to get its foot on the island of Formosa, Nixon flew to Formosa and persuaded Chiang Kai-shek to ban Coke, give Pepsi a monopoly.

+ Dean Acheson, the ex-Secretary of State, has a forgiving memory. He is about the only Democrat supporting Nixon in Nixon's criticism of the military critics. . . In the 1950s Richard Nixon, then Vice President, described Dean Acheson as presiding over "the college of cowardly communist containment." . . Sen. Stephen Young, the Ohio Democrat who says he's not going to retire at the age of 80, has a sharp memory. He is probably the youngest member of the Senate in point of vigor—and courage. . . Sen. Tom Dodd has a long memory. When the big Belgian-French copper interests were trying to separate Katanga from the Congo, Dodd delivered canned speeches which appeared to have been written for him by the Katanga lobby. One man who opposed him was McMurtie Godley, U.S. ambassador to the Congo. Last week Dodd held up the confirmation of Godley to be U.S. ambassador to Laos. . . A trek of Washington socialites to Mississippi to celebrate the inauguration of Charles Evers as the first Negro mayor in Mississippi since Reconstruction days is exactly what won't help Evers in Mississippi. Nevertheless, a lot of Washingtonians, headed by Ethel Kennedy, are planning to fly to Mississippi in special planes.

Outstanding Fiddle Session

short or long. In the present case it has been virtually nil. True, a few odds and ends that can be classified as tid-bits have clanked through the legislative mill, but measured in terms of overall productivity the record so far has been on the frightening side.

Of course there has been the usual pre-preliminary grunting, grumbling and haggling in committees on the "great issues of the day"—but inescapable is the fact that the leadership lords of both the Senate and House of Representatives have yet to produce much of anything approaching finalization. On the "production" end it should be noted that rank and file members in both the House and Senate are caught in the squeeze—inadvertently -- with little they can do about it as individuals.

In both houses the courses are charted by the respective leaderships -- Republicans in the Senate and Democrats in the House of Representatives, as opposed to pro-administration. Politically the two leaderships are at odds, of course, but the inescapable fact is that the leadership on which this 1969 session has been and is languishing, reflects on the Legislature as a whole (the rank-and-file).

The Legislature (collectively)

so far this year has been a bust, and at the present rate, promises to be somewhat of a hair-brained affair by the time the session finally comes to an end.

More specifically, of course, the cause celebre goes right back to the leadership -- but particularly on political issues (or during campaign-time) this detail becomes lost in the dust and clutter.

In the near thirty years this columnist has covered Capitol Hill as a newsman (far longer than most members of the Legislature themselves) we have seen legislative leaderships come and go, governors come and go.

In more recent years political division of the Legislature has been more the rule than anything else, and the current situation is nothing new -- but the carping on the part of the legislative leadership this session is fast becoming a hallmark that could be a killer on both sides of the political fence.

At the rate the present session is going, the less said about this session (on which both Democrats and Republicans are trying to make a "record") during the legislative campaigns next year -- the better!

Black And Blue Studies

WASHINGTON -- As a boy, Charlie was instructed by his father in the virtues of using reason and argument whenever he found himself in a disagreement with someone.

"Let us suppose you disagreed with a schoolmate about who has won all the marbles," his father said. "The way to settle the dispute is to talk it over calmly and reasonably in a spirit of open negotiation."

The worst thing you can possibly do is get into a fist fight over the marbles, because that would be violence, and violence is reprehensible to the spirit of America." Baker

Charlie was delighted by this advice because he did not like having his nose bloodied, and the mere thought of having his teeth loosened by another boy's knuckles made him wince.

So it was that one day when Charlie and Pete disagreed about who had won all the marbles, Pete offered to punch Charlie's nose. "That would be violence and, therefore, reprehensible," said Charlie. "We must negotiate this quarrel with calm and reason because I simply refuse to fight."

"You must be a nut," said Pete, following the word with a jab to Charlie's nose. When Charlie refused to fight, Pete blackened both his eyes, knocked his two upper front incisors loose, took all the marbles and went home.

Some time later Charlie and his father disagreed about Charlie's right to sit up past bedtime and watch a television play. "Let's talk this out calmly," Charlie urged his father.

"You can talk as calmly as you want," his father said. "I'll give you three minutes. After that, you'll go to bed immediately."

"Suppose I don't," Charlie said. "I'll give you the beating of your life," his father said. Whereupon Charlie argued his case calmly and persuasively for three minutes, and then went to bed.

Eventually Charlie went to college. One day the students seized the dean's office to enforce their demand for unlimited chapel cuts. "This resort to violence is terrible," Charlie told his fellow students. "Violence threatens the very fabric of American life. What we should do is negotiate with the dean."

"Charlie is perfectly right," said the dean. So the students all agreed to evacuate the dean's office, and they appointed Charlie as their negotiator.

"I have a very long and very reasonable argument to present," Charlie said on the day the negotiations opened.

"That's fine," said the dean. "Start arguing, and while you're doing it, I'll just slip out to a faculty meeting. When you finish, send me a memo and later I'll give you my decision on unlimited chapel cuts, which is that I won't tolerate them."

"If you don't," Charlie argued, "the students may seize the chapel, which would be an act of American-fabric-shattering violence."

"I know," the dean said. "And in that case, we would have no alternative but to send in the police and have them all beaten up."

Disillusioned, Charlie left college and joined the nonviolent civil rights movement in the South where he was severely beaten by law enforcement agents for being a menace to law and order.

Turning to the political process, Charlie later went to Chicago in 1968 to demonstrate. "For Hubert Humphrey?" asked a Chicago Democrat, handing him a placard that said "We Love Mayor Daley."

"No," said Charlie. "For Eugene McCarthy."

That week Charlie's skull was cracked by a policeman who was defending the fabric of American life against the possibility of violence.

Last month while visiting a friend at Berkeley, Charlie was felled in a helicopter gas attack that had been mounted to save the golden state from violence.

Charlie is slightly punchy now. His nose is flattened, he has a couple of creaky ribs and frequent headaches from his old skull concussions, and he coughs a lot as a result of the gassing. Still, now and then he can talk a little sense.

Ask him, "Why don't you ever fight back, Charlie?" and he will tell you. "Listen, man," he says, "you beat me bad enough just for disagreeing peaceably. Imagine what they'd hit me with if I got violent."

Charlie should be an object lesson to today's young people. If they simply must indulge their penchant for violence, they should quit protesting and join the authorities in the heroic struggle to stamp out violence by beating some senselessness into our malcontents.

IT'S YOUR MONEY

"My wife and I are eternally grateful to you for the advice to look into Social Security three months in advance," a fellow newspaperman wrote to me.

"Today," he continued, "she got a check in the mail for $707, following notification that from now on it would be $50 a month (less $4 for Medicare payments) and that her claim for disability is under consideration."

"The disability is something she never thought about, but which a couple of very nice girls over at the Norwood, Mass., Social Security office went out of their way to suggest to her. Since it made a lot of extra work for them, we thought that was pretty darn good."

"At the moment, we are full of kind thoughts about you and the U.S. government," he concluded.

Recently, an Independence, Mo., woman wrote:

"I would like to express my appreciation and say a few kind words about our local Social Security office and all its staff. My husband applied for his disability Social Security in December, 1967. Within a few days, we received a letter from them to come in and complete the forms. He was unable to go, so I picked up the forms and helped him complete them and mailed them back."

"A couple of weeks later, he received a letter that they wanted him to complete some more forms. The day he was to go in he entered the hospital again for two weeks, so they were to have one of their workers call on him at the hospital, but as busy as they were he was released before they got to see him. So he went in."

"A lot of the questions seemed repetitious and a little silly, but we answered them as courteously as possible and to the best of our ability, and all the time all the people we dealt with were as thoughtful and polite as they could be."

"In June, 1968, he got his first check, which was for the first five months of 1968 and retroactive to June, 1967. This we were extremely grateful for. In July, 1968, we received another letter from them, saying his work record showed he might be entitled to more retroactive payments and could he come in or call?"

"I called and they said I probably could give them the information over the phone, which I did. They then sent forms to the doctor to be completed. We heard no more from them and in September, 1968, my husband passed away, so I dismissed it from my mind, thinking now that he was gone they would probably just drop it."

"The other day I got another check from them -- made out to me for approximately six more months retroactive, as near as I can figure out. This was most welcome as hospital and doctor bills and funeral expenses had taken practically all of his insurance money."

"So many people complain about the way they are treated in these offices, but all I want to say is they are people working for a living just like all the rest of us and they are just doing their job. God bless them all."

"Sign me. . . A Grateful Citizen."

Note: Day in and day out this column is aware of such happenings as described in these two communications from grateful beneficiaries of services rendered by Social Security people. There are people who like to throw brickbats at government employees; and while there may often be justification for criticism, my observation has been that those in Social Security offices frequently extend themselves beyond expectations of many beneficiaries, to see that "they get all that's coming to them" and assist them toward that end. It's nice, indeed, when people such as the husband and widow in the above cases trouble themselves to take pen in hand and express their sincere gratitude.

SDS Aim: Overthrow U.S. Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — A police infiltrator of the Students for a Democratic Society told the Senate Tuesday the SDS is a loosely organized Communist machine actively striving to overthrow the U.S. government.

"Groups closely involved with the SDS are involved in the collection of weapons," said Lawrence L. Kihnel Jr. "And the SDS teaches weapons use at its workshops."

Kihnel, a detective on the Jefferson Parish, La., sheriff's intelligence division, said he successfully infiltrated the SDS working class chapter in New Orleans—the Movement for a Democratic Society—for seven months and heard 90 per cent of the SDS's national leaders admit they are Communists.

The detective said his role was uncovered last September and he was stabbed in the stomach by two unknown assailants after leaving a meeting at which he was accused of being a policeman.

Kihnel said he was recruited by the sheriff's office while a student at Loyola University in New Orleans and was asked to join the SDS to determine if its activities threaten U.S. security.

The officer said he attended numerous local meetings of radical groups in New Orleans and the national convention of the SDS in East Lansing, Mich., in 1968.

"It should be clear at this point in the political development of the New Left," he said, "that SDS is the spearhead for the New Left and that SDS is not a front for the Communists."

"SDS is a radical revolutionary group—a Communist group loosely organized but effectively coordinated, striving for the eventual overthrow of the U.S. government by any means necessary. Members themselves will testify to this."

In reply to questions by members of the Senate subcommittee on investigations, Kihnel said the SDS does not wish to be called a Communist-front group because it has passed that point.

"I'm not saying all SDS members are Communist," he said, "although that point can be debated. Except, 90 per cent of those on the board admit they are Communist. And those leaders are elected in a very democratic way—they know they are electing Communists to represent themselves."

GOP Congressman Pushes for Higher Tax Exemptions in Any Tax Reform Laws

"No tax reform bill will be acceptable to the public this year without raising the personal exemption amount from its present level of $600," Rep. John P. Saylor, R-Pa., said Saturday.

Rep. Saylor has introduced a bill to raise the personal tax exemption to $1,000. The present level was established in 1948.

The Johnstown Republican pointed out that 127 bills have been introduced in the Congress so far and the overwhelming majority of them would raise the exemption amount to $1,000 or $1,200. Calling the bills "impressive evidence of bipartisan support for such reform," the Congressman noted that 60 Republicans and 95

Democrats have introduced the bills.

According to Saylor, 155 members of the House of Representatives are supporting the attempted reform. He says 63 more supporters (a total of 218, or one over half the member-

Warren County Commissioners David Rice, Thomas Donnelly and Blain Mead adopted a resolution in March requesting Congress to increase the personal tax exemption from $600 to $1,000.

Their resolution, adopted March 3, 1969, was sent to the leaders of the House and Senate and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania.

Troops Withdrawn from Vietnam To Be Redeployed in Pacific Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — About two thirds of the 25,000 American troops withdrawn from Vietnam will be redeployed on Okinawa, Hawaii and Japan—in position to be used in emergencies anywhere in the Far East.

The Pentagon announced Tuesday that about 16,000 soldiers and Marines will be repositioned in the Pacific area.

Included are the 8,000-man 9th Marine Regimental Landing Team bound for Okinawa, the 7,400-man 1st Brigade of the 9th Infantry Division and Division Headquarters going to Hawaii, and a 400-man Marine squadron of F4 jet fighters being sent to Iwakuni, Japan, in July and August.

Previously, the Pentagon said that another 8,000 Army troops, including 2,000 active duty National Guardsmen and Reservists, will be flown back to the United States to be disbanded, and about 1,200 Navy men will be spread throughout the Pacific command and the United States.

Announcement of the destinations of the 16,000 Army men and Marines in the Pacific area completed a general detail of the 25,000-man troop withdrawal announced by President Nixon at Midway over a week ago.

The normal Pacific combat reserve for possible use in such places as Korea and Thailand has been virtually nonexistent since the United States began pouring troops into the Vietnam war in mid-1965.

When the movements are complete, one brigade of the 9th Infantry Division will remain in Vietnam, one brigade will be taken off the regular Army rolls. The 9th Division was formed in early 1966 specifically for the Vietnam war.

Daniel Z. Henkin, the Pentagon's chief spokesman, indicated to newsmen that there will be some reshuffling before the Division's brigades leave Vietnam.

Under broad guidelines, the brigade being returned for reactivation in the United States will be manned with troops who have come close to the end of the normal one-year war tour and who have little time left in their service obligations.

The brigade going to Hawaii will be staffed with men who have varying amounts of regular service ahead of them, and will be replaced in the unit from the Army's manpower pool as their hitch runs out.

The brigade destined for inactivation in the United States will leave its equipment behind in Vietnam, mostly for the South Vietnamese army.

The Marine regiment going to Okinawa will include virtually all of its present troops and all of its equipment, Henkin said.

The 20 National Guard and Reserve units returning home for demobilization come from 16 states.

They will move first to Army posts near their home stations for processing, then to their home armories or to their Reserve centers to be demobilized back to civilian life.

This will leave some 10,000 mobilized National Guardsmen and Reservists still on duty in Vietnam. All are due home and out of uniform by Christmas.

As a precaution against plant diseases being brought back in equipment returning to the United States the Agriculture Department is sending a team of specialists to Vietnam.

Astronaut Moon Tests Probe Sleeping Pill Use

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo program director Tuesday ordered preparations to proceed toward a July 16 launching of the Apollo 11 lunar landing flight while the astronauts practiced in trainers and began tests to see if they can take sleeping pills on the moon.

After a nine-hour flight readiness review, Air Force Maj. Gen. Samuel Phillips reported "I am confident we can proceed with preparations to meet the July launch window. We are go at this time subject to successful completion of the remaining tests."

The review included readiness of the Saturn 5 rocket, the two spaceships, tracking network, recovery forces and the health and training of the astronauts.

Civilian Neil A. Armstrong, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins are to ride a Saturn 5 rocket into space at 9:32 a.m. EDT July 16, heading for an orbit of the moon.

On July 20, Armstrong and Aldrin are to fly a lunar landing ship, or LEM, to a landing in the Sea of Tranquility on the moon.

The astronauts flew here Tuesday from the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, Tex. There, Armstrong, the Apollo 11 commander, practiced

A car increase at a price decrease.

$101.00 less

You expect this year's Chevrolet to be more car than last year's. That's progress.

Maybe you also expected it to cost more. Most things do.

But the Impala you see below is actually priced considerably less than last year's with comparable equipment. We've reduced prices on the kind of extras more and more people are ordering. Like bigger V8's. Automatic transmissions. Advanced-design power disc brakes. And head restraints (now figured into the base price of the car as standard equipment).

So for this '69 Impala—equipped with a 300-hp V8, Turbo Hydra-matic, power disc brakes, whitewalls and wheel covers—the price is actually $101.00* less than it was in 1968.

Our hidden persuaders

Some of the ways we give you more car are pretty apparent. It'll probably come as no surprise to you, for example, that this Impala is longer and wider than any comparable model in its field.

But a lot of the advantages—like Chevrolet's smooth-riding computer-selected springs—are tucked away where you can only feel what they do for you.

Others—like our rust-resisting flush-and-dry rocker panels—you'll come to appreciate more after you've driven the car for a time.

Still others show up mainly in the added sense of security they give you. The protective side guard beam we build into every big Chevrolet door, for instance.

These are the sorts of advantages that may be out of sight. But when you're buying a car they shouldn't be out of mind.

Biggest standard V8

Last year's standard Chevrolet V8 was 307 cubic inches. This year's is 327.

Which means you get a bigger standard engine with more output (235 hp) than any other car in our field offers.

(Our standard six, incidentally, is also the largest and most powerful in our field.)

And when it comes to extra V8 performance, we've also got it like nobody else.

Right up to our 390-hp Turbo-Jet 427.

Other things the others haven't got

Self-washing headlights.
Electro-Clear rear window defroster.

Quicker responding variable-ratio power steering.

A power trunk opener controlled from inside your car.

Order these on any other car in our field and you're in for a long wait.

Chevrolet's the only one that offers them.

Plus higher resale

Look at it this way.

A Chevrolet actually saves you money twice.

When you buy it.

And when you buy your next one.

Groups Invited to Enter Floats in July 4 Parade

Warren Jaycees invite all interested Warren area clubs, organizations and businesses to sponsor a float in Warren's 22nd annual Fourth of July Celebration this year.

Floats will be judged in the forming area, before the parade begins, in keeping with the policy instituted last year. Major innovation in the float competition is a revised prize schedule based on the number of contestants in each of the three categories -- Commercial, Service and Juvenile.

The new prize schedule is intended to eliminate a problem which occurred last year when there were four prizes toward in the Juvenile category, which had 18 entries, and the same number of prizes in the Service category, which had seven entries.

The Jaycee Publicity Committee would like to remind entrants that it is possible to order inexpensive kits for easy to assemble floats. Jaycees are available to help and advise any contestants. All entries should be mailed to Joseph Leta, Float Chairman, Jaycee Parade Committee, 122 Central Ave., Warren, on or before June 30, 1969. Further float entries will be accepted after that date, but will be ineligible for any awards.

The number of entries will determine the number of prizes in each category. The following Float Competition Rules must be observed by each entry:

Float Definition:

1. A float is a self-propelled or towed, wheeled vehicle which has been especially constructed or decorated for appearance in this year's 4th of July parade.

2. Permanent restorations or constructions, such as antique autos, wagons, fire trucks, etc., shall be considered to be "Specialty Vehicles" and shall not be eligible for float prizes. Expense money may be available upon application to the Parade Committee.

Judges:

1. The Float Judges for this year's parade will consist of two groups of volunteers from the Warren Art League. Each judging group will consist of three judges and one scorer from the Art League and one Jaycee representative.

2. The judges will make a preliminary tour of the parade forming area in a radio car starting at 9:25 a.m.

3. When the preliminary tour is finished, the official judging will start with the judges proceeding on foot from the first division containing a float and follow the published parade order. Each judging group will judge all of the entries in two of the four prize categories. All entries in any one prize category will be judged by the same judging group.

4. All entrants are asked to channel any discussion with the judging groups through the Jaycee representative. The judges will be authorized to let what in their opinion constitutes undue interference or complaining be reflected in their scoring.

Scoring:

1. Each judge will rate each float on a separate score sheet on five different qualities with a maximum of 20 points per quality.

2. These scores will be totaled by the scorer. The highest possible score will be 300 points and 150 points will be considered average.

3. Final responsibility for any errors of addition and the deduction of any late arrival penalties will rest upon the Jaycee representative.

4. The five qualities each float will be judged on are: appropriateness of theme (relative to the nature of the represented organization, the spirit of the 4th of July, or the general promotion of Kinzua County), original use of vehicles and float, difficulty in creation and assembly, showmanship (use and appearance of personnel and equipment) and general appeal to the judges.

Late Arrival:

1. Judging will start at 9:30 a.m. Division Chiefs will be

Mrs. Fred Rulander, Davy Hill, attended the funeral for Mrs. Welda Smorawski on Friday in St. John's Church in Tidioute.

Mrs. Fred Rulander was sorry to hear that her nephew Almo Peterson, Jamestown, N.Y., was hurt in a car accident and is in a serious condition in W.C.A. Hospital in Jamestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rulander and sons Robert and Steven, Warren, visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson on Davy Hill on Saturday.

EXPANDING THE FAITH

FORT AUGUSTUS, Scotland (AP) — The monks of Fort Augustus Benedictine Abbey have "adopted" an area of Sweden in an attempt to reintroduce the monastic life there. The 29 priests and 13 lay brothers at the Abbey are raising money to help a former Abbot of Fort Augustus, who is already working in the province of Varmland. They expect to send the first monk from here to join him soon.

Market Sinks To Another New Low

NEW YORK (AP) — With investor concern over tight money continuing to weigh on it, the stock market sank to another new low for the year Tuesday, although a late spurt of bargain hunting did help it to pare early sharp losses.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which lost 3.68 points Monday and a total of 29.93 points last week, sank rapidly in early trading, and by 1 p.m. it was off 11.12. But it reversed directions after that, and at the close it was off 5.43, or 0.60 per cent, at 885.73, the lowest it has closed since last Aug. 15 when it stood at 879.51.

The close at 885.73 was a new 1969 low. The previous low for the year came Monday when the Dow closed at 891.16.

Brokers said the decline apparently was a continuation of the concerns over tight money, adding that they felt this would continue to overhang the market as long as there was "no positive stimulus to offset it."

Analysts attributed the market's ability to cut its losses largely to bargain hunting. They said the market had retreated so much in recent weeks that the price of some stocks were at a level at which they were attractive to traders.

Losses led gains from the start. Of 1,191 issues traded, 1,024 declined and 324 advanced. There was one new high for the year, set by Continental Steel, and 418 new lows. Brokers said there were rumors in Wall Street that the market was at a level at which they were attractive to traders.

Area Holstein Has Good Output

Holstein-Friesian Association of America has reported a production milestone for a Registered Holstein cow from this area. The career producer has been credited with more than 100,000 lbs. of milk output under official testing supervision.

The owner, Dodd Farms, Corry, has been notified that Our View R A Athena 471338, has produced 105,509 lbs. of milk and 3,615 lbs. of butter fat in 2,716 days since becoming two years of age.

Because of current replacement heifer rearing and purchase costs, cows that stay in the herd longer and achieve high lifetime production levels have proven to be more profitable. The Holstein Association has over 32,700 cows on file that have attained the 50-ton production milestone.

Production levels of this magnitude can be attributed to scientific advances in feeding and management practices coupled with the genetic improvement and longevity of Registered Holsteins.

Street of a possible takeover attempt for Continental.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange came to 12.21 million shares, compared with 10.4 million shares Monday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 2.4 to 315.1, a new low for the year, with industrials off 2.9, rails off 2.4, and utilities off .3.

Steels were fractionally lower as were motors, except for General Motors which gained 1/4 to 79 3/4. Among aircrafts, Boeing gained 1/4.

Electronics were mixed, Sperry Rand gained 2, RCA was off 1 1/2. Utilities also were mixed.

Among other issues, Control Data gained 4, Colorado Interstate Corp. fell 5 1/4; Xerox lost 1 1/2; and Standard Oil Ind. fell 2.

Prices generally were lower on the American Stock Exchange.

The Amex index lost 28 cents to $28.78. Of 1,058 issues traded, 194 advanced and 711 declined. Volume totaled 4.94 million shares, compared with 3.97 million Monday.

PROTECTING THE FAITH

LONDON (AP) — Unitas, the English Roman Catholic lay organization which backs orthodoxy in teaching and the return to such practices as the public rosary and Latin mass, is organizing itself into parish cells "to defend the Pope and the faith."

A spokesman said Unitas sought, by underground tactics, to counter false doctrine and practices which he claimed had found their way, often with clergy support, into parish routine.

Pennsylvania Happenings

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It pays to go to college—with more take-home cash, more of the better things in life.

A recent Pennsylvania State University survey shows that some engineering graduates are getting more than $200 a week on their first job—and that women generally do just as well as men.

Business administration career gals get an average salary of around $635 a month, while men manage to collect a few dollars more for their skills.

Liberal arts males reportedly can earn in their first job as much as $750 a month, while women pull down a high of $725. In scientific fields men do better, with the Penn State survey showing male graduates are offered as high as $840 while the girls get up to $760.

In another survey, Penn State researcher Lawrence A. Simpson found some slight discrimination—on sex—in the hiring of college professors.

A woman can get the job, generally, if she has better qualifications.

All things being equal, Simpson found, the male deans and department heads tend to hire men.

But for pay the teachers of either sex stand as equals. Experience, tenure, degrees determine salaries—and militancy among teachers, united now in unions, has increased starting pay to better than $100 a week with top scales more than double that.

IT'S NEVER TOO LATE: Mrs. Elsie K. Friedel, an 82-year-old widow of Paxinos, Northumberland County, decided it's time to learn how to fish—recently bought her first license.

"I don't know what all the fuss is about," says the retired Army nurse and beautician. "You'd think I was an old lady. It's not too late for me to learn how to fish."

THE BRAIN FACTORIES: Temple University's dental alumni recently presented Martha Raye, of movie-television-radio fame, with its Ambassador of Laughter award. West Chester State College has the oldest, continuously operating co-educational health and physical education department in the United States...Willis Eye Hospital of Philadelphia, largest of its kind in the Western Hemisphere.

there, treats over 40,000 persons annually...

WHO, ME?...Two black boys recently exchanged blows in the play yard at Allentown's Horne Elementary School. One weeping told the teacher who stopped the fight that it had started after the other "called me an Afro-American."

WORTH QUOTING: "While the younger generation seems to be trying to 'turn on' their elders, treats over 40,000 persons annually..."

Allegheny Reports April, Year to Date Results

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Allegheny Airlines has reported a net profit of $105,000 for April compared with a loss of $5,000 for April 1968.

Commercial revenues for the month increased 32 per cent to $9,925,000 while subsidy (public service revenue) was reduced by 59 per cent in April to $163,000.

For the year to date, commercial revenues were up 31 per cent to $33,836,000 compared with $25,888,000 for the first four months of 1968.

Subsidy for the year to date was $1,183,000 or 43 per cent less than the $2,090,000 received for the same 1968 period.

During April the Company entered phasing out its 40-passenger F-27J aircraft. This program will be complete on June 15 when the last five aircraft will be taken out of service. The reduction of equipment types from four to three will result in increased economies as will the introduction of additional 100-passenger DC-9 fanjet aircraft. Allegheny is slated to receive six more DC-9-31 fanjets this year.

Look what we got ourselves into.

If you need an excuse to get out of the house tomorrow, come to our Grand Opening party.

And if you can't leave the kids, bring them along for the ride: a test-drive in a Volkswagen Sedan, Station Wagon, Karmann Ghia, Fastback, or Squareback. (We have VWs for any size family.)

When you get back, stop by our refreshment stand. Pick up souvenirs for you and the kids. Try for a door prize. And take a good look around.

Poke your nose into our parts department. (We have parts to fit every Volkswagen model ever built.)

Walk over to our service department and ask about the special tools you see. (We had them made just for VWs.)

Roam around our used car lot and the rest of our outdoor property. (We have five square feet of land for each square foot of building. That's growing room. We expect to be around for a long time.)

And if you miss seeing something, having a question answered, or test-driving the Volkswagen of your choice—please come again.

Next time, you'll just miss the party.

Come to our Grand Opening tomorrow.

Council to Probe Access Road to Swim Pool

Youngsville borough councilmen James Cowan and Hugh Logan are to investigate alternatives to a proposal of the Youngsville Recreation Commission for a new access road to the Brokenstraw Valley swimming pool. They were delegated to make the investigation and report back at the next regular council meeting on July 7, in a motion which ended more than three hours' discussion at an adjourned session Monday evening.

The session began with an on-site inspection of undeveloped borough land below the pool, where long-range plans call for creating a recreational complex including picnic, park and playground areas. By invitation of the council, a number of residents of Division, Fifth and Sixth Streets accompanied them on the walk through wet grass and low brush. The residents have protested a proposal of the Youngsville Recreation Commission that a new access road to the pool be built, approximately along the 1100-ft. route of a footpath created by pedestrian traffic up the hill from the point where Fifth and Division streets abut the borough property. The Commission's stated objectives are to reduce traffic hazards they feel have been intensified by the new Route 6 bypass at the entrance to the only existing official route to the pool, via the Brokenstraw township-owned Thatcher Lane; and to take the first steps towards multiple use of the public property.

The area residents contend that the Commission's proposal would increase traffic hazards in their vicinity. They have pointed out that their streets were not designed for heavy traffic flow such as would be experienced by diversion of some from the existing pool route; and that the many children who live and play in the neighborhood (44 on Fifth Street alone, according to one count) would be endangered.

Thirteen residents, most of them from the affected area, and four members of the Recreation Commission, accompanied the councilmen to the municipal building to discuss the problem, after the inspection. It was a frank but friendly and concerned discussion of the issues, with none of the raised voices and emotionalism that characterized an earlier meeting.

Questions ranged from cost, drainage plans, and parking requirements, to traffic signals, rights-of-way, and policing.

One resident pointed out: "We are not talking just about our own kids, but hundreds of kids. They are walking along our streets now, to get to the pool, and they will still be walking if we get the cars coming too."

Dennis Engstrom, member of the Recreation Commission, and summer recreation director, with responsibility for the pool operation:

We are all citizens, and the problems concern all of us. Let us do something about them before a tragedy occurs.

Ronald Thompson, Recreation Commission member: If there is a better way than the one we have suggested, I am all for it. In response to a question from Recreation Commission chairman Kenneth Johnson, area residents declared they favored development of the borough land as a picnic and playground area, and believed that a road to serve such facilities, but not going all the way through to the pool, would meet with "a lot less resistance."

Council took action on two other matters before closing the meeting. They approved a request of the Recreation Commission for removal of a swing set, merry-go-round, slide and teeter-totter from storage at Island Park to the pool area, with the stipulation that the equipment be considered only loaned. Other play equipment remains in storage for use at Island Park when planned rehabilitation takes place. The park, largely torn up in bypass construction activities, has been reseeded, construction of new rest room facilities has been authorized, and the tennis courts have been reopened for public use.

Borough manager James Malone was instructed not to make borough machinery available for rental to private users.

Four Contests In Rec League

Sub Shop pushed across two runs in the top of the sixth to defeat Penn Highlands 5-3 and continue their undefeated ways in the Warren Recreation Softball League.

In other action Tuesday night, DeVores dumped G. G. Green's 13-5, City Ice stopped Montgomery Wards 11-4, and Sheffield Tavern topped Surf Club 4-1.

Don Baldensperger had the big night for the Sub Shop. He supported his own pitching efforts with a three-for-four day at the plate, including a triple.

Charlie Pettit had a similar night for City Ice. He not only pitched for the win but went three-for-three and collected a double.

Sheffield Tavern had to come up with three runs in the last two innings to gain their win. Joby McAuley cracked a homer, the big blow in that game.

G. G. Greene's actually held a 5-4 lead after four and a half innings of their game, but DeVores exploded for six runs in the bottom of the fifth and three more in the ninth inning to pick up the victory.

Boycott Still On Among CFL Vets

TORONTO (AP) — Veteran members of the Toronto Argonauts continued to boycott pre-season training camp for the second day Tuesday while the Canadian Football League club's president began to talk of finding a method to replace the unhappy players.

The players are boycotting training camp over the refusal of the club to agree to pay $40 a week for each member of the team who makes the final roster, in addition to $60 a week expense money during the training season.

Lew Hayman, the club's president, and Coach Leo Cahill waited until 6 p.m. for the players to show Monday, then Hayman suggested Tuesday that some solution involving replac-

McMahon's Horses Not Good Enough

TORONTO (AP) — The gold and black silks of oilman Frank McMahon of Vancouver, which glittered in the winners' circle at the Kentucky Derby and Preakness this year, will be missing from the Queen's Plate Saturday.

Vance Longden, son of Johnny Longden, the former great jockey who trains for McMahon, loaded up his two horses before dawn Tuesday and shipped out West.

"They just weren't good enough," a track spokesman said.

McMahon had the handsome chestnut gelding Love Your Host pointing at the Plate. With him was the filly Dorothy Glynne by Northern Dancer. The filly had not been expected to go in the Plate.

The Queen's Plate is for Canadian foaled 3-year-olds, which rules out an entry by McMahon's Kentucky bred Majestic Prince which won the Derby and the Preakness.

White's Grocery Will Play Host To Area's Best—Security Peoples

By DAVE PIRILLO
Softball at its best. That's the way softball fans are describing this Friday's doubleheader featuring the All-Stars of Warren under the banner of White's Grocery and Security Peoples. The game is being played at the new ballpark at Erie, the finest hitting and fielding first baseman in Warren County, and Paul Johnston, an asset to any body's team in the short-stop position.

Other stalwarts on the Warren team include hard-hitting Bob Larson at third and Dick White at the second base post. Holding down the picket posts will be clutch playing Pete Molinaro, rangy Jim Fehlman and a fellow who always plays a consistently good game, Sam Koebley.

This is what Warren has to offer in the way of stopping the three-time state champs and 14-time runner-ups.

Already this year, Security has finished in the runner-up posts at the Cleveland Open and Ashland Class AA tournament. When the Bankers were in Warren last year, they handed the Warren entry a double loss, 3-1 and 5-0. However, both games were never decided until the latter stages.

Jim Adamczak, certainly no stranger to area softball fans, will get the starting assignment for Security. Big Jim used to pitch for Betts Machine in the early 60s and had the habit of pitching nothing but superb ball. Gary Hanke, a 21-

Three On All-Star Teams In 2 Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Cronin, Tris Speaker and Rogers Hornsby, three members of baseball's Hall of Fame, each made all-time All-Star teams in two cities in the recent vote by fans in major league cities.

An all-time All-Star team, as well as the greatest player ever, will be announced July 21 at a special dinner in Washington on the eve of the annual All-Star game.

The final team will be selected by the members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America and the nation's leading sportscasters from the names picked by the fans.

Cronin was picked as the shortest for both the Washington Senators and Boston Red Sox. Speaker was in the outfield for both the Red Sox and Cleveland Indians. Hornsby was the second baseman for both the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals.

Fans in 17 big league cities voted for their favorite teams. The other cities, with the exception of Seattle, voted for all-time major league teams and not just their own players.

The men selected as the greatest players ever in the cities taking such a vote were:

National League
Atlanta, Henry Aaron; Chicago, Ernie Banks; Cincinnati, Ed Roush; Los Angeles, Dodger.

Game Cancelled
The game schedule for this evening between the Sons of Italy and the Warren Times-Mirror and Observer has been cancelled. However, the game between Betts Machine Shop and Warren Beverage will be played as scheduled at 8:00 p.m.

Curly-haired, easy-going and affable in contrast to the stereotyped picture of a chess master as tense and temperamental, Spassky made his first bid for the world title three years ago, but Petrosyan successfully defended.

This time, however, it was different, with Spassky winning six of the games in the series that started on April 14. Petrosyan won four games and the others ended in a draw.

"This young man is always in high spirits. He cannot be frightened by anything," said Mikhail Botvinnik, former world champion, of Spassky.

O.J. Wants Insurance

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — All-American O.J. Simpson said Tuesday he would like to play in the Coaches' All-Star football game in Atlanta June 28 — with one large provision.

"Some sort of insurance against possible injuries has to be set up," said Simpson, a Heisman Trophy winner. "We'll be talking to the Atlanta people in a day or two to see what can be set up."

Simpson spoke at a press conference at M.G.M. studios where it was announced he'll have the lead part in one episode in a forthcoming television series on CBA called Medical Center.

O.J.'s role? That of a star college football player.

There has been no change in his contract negotiations with owner Ralph Wilson of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, Simpson said.

Community chairman of the Warren County Hot Stove League will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday, June 19, at the Warren YMCA.

Since proceeds from the pen sales will be collected, chairmen who have not yet received all the proceeds from their area managers should do so before this meeting.

Entries Due

Women golfers planning to participate in the Warren County Women's Open must apply and pay their five dollar entry fee by Monday, June 22. The tournament will be held at Jackson Valley Country Club on June 26.

Indians Best Bosox
CLEVELAND (AP) — Ken Harrelson singled home the winning run in the eighth inning to give the Cleveland Indians a 4-2 victory over Boston Tuesday night.

Harrelson's blow scored Dave Nelson, running for Richie Scheinblum who led off with a single, after Nelson advanced on a wild pitch and an infield out. Harrelson then scored on Cap Peterson's sacrifice fly.

The Indians grabbed a 2-0 lead in the second when Tony Horton walked and scored on Russ Snyder's double. Snyder later scored on winner Stan Williams' single.

But Boston came back with Rico Petrocelli's solo homer in the fourth, his 21st of the season. The Red Sox then tied it in the fifth.

Tigers Sweep Yanks
NEW YORK (AP) — Ike Brown's first major league homer and a three-run blast by Dick McAuliffe carried the Detroit Tigers past the New York Yankees 6-3 Tuesday night, completing a doubleheader sweep and stretching their winning streak to seven games.

The Tigers took the opener 8-0 behind the six-hit pitching of left-hander John Hiller.

Southpaw Mickey Lolich posted his seventh triumph against one loss in the nightcap, but needed eighth inning relief help from Don McMahon after the Yankees rallied for three runs.

Brown, called up from the Tigers' Toledo farm club Monday, drilled a two-run homer off Mike Kekich, 0-3, in the fourth for his first major league hit.

With two out in the seventh, Lolich walked, Mickey Stanley singled and McAuliffe followed with a shot into the right field bullpen.

In the opener, Hiller, 2-2, struck out seven on the way to his first complete game of the year.

Ex-Yank Tom Tresh, making his first appearance for Detroit, drew a walk in the first inning and McAuliffe sent the Tigers ahead to stay with a triple off Mel Stottlemyre, 9-6.

Cuellar Tops Nats
WASHINGTON (AP) — Mike Cuellar pitched a four-hit Tuesday night as the rampaging Baltimore Orioles defeated the Washington Senators 5-1 for their fifth straight victory.

Cuellar picked up his seventh victory against five losses and Baltimore's 11th in 13 outings.

Baltimore jumped quickly on Jim Shellenback when Don Buford opened the game with a single and scored on Paul Blair's double.

Frank Robinson walked and Boog Powell reached on Frank Howard's error, Blair scoring. Brooks Robinson drove in Frank Robinson with a single.

Angels Bomb Twins
ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Rich Reichard and Bill Voss backed up Andy Messersmith's three-hitter with homers as the California Angels shelled Minnesota 13-1 Tuesday night.

Reichard slammed a two-run homer, No. 6 in the third inning and Voss lined a three-run shot, his first, in California's six-run sixth.

Jim Spencer and Auerlio Rodriguez contributed run-scoring triples to California's 13-hit barrage.

Messersmith, 2-5, struck out nine in completing only the fifth game by a California starting pitcher in 57 games.

National League
Bucs Sweep Cubs
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Richie Hebner singled in the only run in the first game and then singled in the winning run with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth inning of the nightcap as Pittsburgh swept a twi-night doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 1-0 and 4-3 Tuesday.

After Matty Alou doubled in the seventh inning of the opener, Hebner singled him home to break up a scoreless duel between the Pirates' Bob Veale and Ferguson Jenkins of the Cubs.

Veale, 4-7, left in the eighth inning after yielding a walk and the sixth hit off him and Bruce Dal Canton completed the shut-out. Jenkins, 8-4, struck out 11 in going the distance.

In the ninth of the second game, pitcher Steve Blass singled with one out and then reliever Ted Abernathy threw away a bunt by Jose Martinez, with Blass reaching third base. Rich Nye relieved and intentionally walked Alou to fill the bases and Hebner followed with a hit to right, giving the Pirates their seventh victory in eight games.

The Pirates tied the nightcap in the eighth inning on a bunt single by Alou, a hit by Hebner and an infield hit by Willie Stargell for one run, and a bunt hit by Manny Sanguillen and a double play for the other.

The Cubs took a 3-1 lead in the third when Don Kessinger hit an inside-the-park homer and Billy Williams and Willie Smith drove shots into the lower deck in right field off rookie Gene Garber, making his first major league start.

Carl Taylor's sacrifice fly scored Pittsburgh's first run in the second.

Phils-Mets Split
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gary Gentry hurled a two-hitter as the New York Mets defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 1-0 Tuesday in the opener and split a twi-night doubleheader.

Grant Jackson stopped the Mets on six hits as the Phillies won the nightcap 7-3.

New York ended Philadelphia's five-game winning streak in the first game with a run in the seventh inning off rookie Billy Champion, 1-2, who gave only four hits in eight innings.

In the second game, Richie Allen slammed his 18th homer over the roof in left center field off Don Cardwell, 2-7. An error and four singles made it a 4-0 before the inning ended.

Carlton Hurls Shutout
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Steve Carlton and Joe Hoerner checked Montreal on five hits and pinch-hitter Curt Flood drove in both runs as St. Louis whipped the Expos 2-0 Tuesday night.

Carlton scattered four hits in the first 7 1/3 innings, then Hoerner rescued him from a jam and went on to complete the shutout.

The Cardinals scored in the seventh on Flood's two-out double to the left field wall.

Julian Javier had opened the inning with a single and was sacrificed to second by Dal Maxvill. Carlton, however, hit the ball toward third and Javier was tagged out. Lou Brock then singled.

After it was announced that Flood would pinch-hit, right-hander Roy Face replaced southpaw Don Ginn for the Expos. Flood doubled on a 3-and-2 count, scoring Carlton and Brock.

Atlanta Tops Astros
ATLANTA (AP) — Hank Aaron hit his 18th homer leading off the ninth inning, giving Atlanta a 6-5 victory over the Houston Astros Tuesday night — the Braves' fourth straight.

It was all Houston for the first six innings as rookie Tom Griffin shut out the Braves on three hits, while the Astros grabbed a 4-0 lead, including two runs on John Edwards' homer in the fourth.

But Griffin ran into trouble in the seventh when Rico Cartwright singled and Bob Aspromonte walked. Fred Gladding came in and got Felix Millan to bounce out, but pinch-hitter Mike Lumb singled to score Cartwright and Aspromonte.

Another pinch-hitter, Tommie Aaron, forced Lumb, but consecutive singles by Sonny Jackson, Tony Gonzalez, Henry Aaron and Orlando Cepeda gave the Braves a 5-4 lead.

Houston tied it in the next inning on Denis Menke's single, a walk and Gary Geiger's single.

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Namath, the New York Jets' quarterback, met with team president Phil Iselin Tuesday, the American Football League club announced.

Both issued terse statements acknowledging the meeting and said they were discussing a future meeting with Commissioner Pete Rozelle. There was no comment beyond that.

Namath quit pro football on June 6 when he was ordered by Rozelle to divest himself an interest in Bachelors III.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The National College Athletic Association's executive committee ruled Tuesday that San Jose State sprinter John Carlos and athletes from eight other schools participated in uncertified meets last Saturday which could jeopardize their participation in the NCAA's track and field championships.

The ruling, announced by Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, left it up to the schools to determine whether they would allow their athletes to run in the NCAA meet which starts Thursday on the Tennessee track.

San Jose State Athletic Director Robert Bronzan was not available immediately to comment on whether he will allow Carlos — favored in the 100 and 200 — to run.

However, Carlos said before the NCAA decision was announced that "I'm legal and I'm running."

The other schools, Byers said, which had athletes in uncertified meets are UCLA, Louisiana State, Southern Methodist, Baylor, Prairie View A&M, the University of California at Santa Barbara, Northeast Louisiana and Texas Southern.

The meets involved, Byers said, were the Orange County

Canada's Raceway To Be Like Indy

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — Roger Ward, twice a winner of the Indianapolis 500 auto race, is looking at the new Ontario Speedway where the new Ontario Speedway rises from an erstwhile vineyard and mused: "Every time I see this place, I'm amazed at the immensity of the project."

Looking over the embryo racing plant, you can understand his feelings. Seven hundred acres comprise the overall area which will house a 2½-mile oval for Indianapolis-type championship cars, a road racing course and a drag strip. Estimated cost—$25.5 million.

Construction superintendent Roger Griffin reports progress on schedule for the target opening date on the Labor Day weekend in 1970.

On that day and Labor Days in the future, Ontario plans to stage 500-mile races patterned after the Memorial Day classics at Indianapolis.

The first race will carry a $500,000 basic purse and with accessory and other awards, there would be $750,000 involved.

"We aim at four major events a year," explained Ward whose title, director of special events, covers a multiplicity of projects.

"We'll have the 500 for championship cars, a 500-mile stock car race, a major sports car event and it might be for Formula I, and a major drag race meeting."

There will be seating for 140,500 fans.

Already the outlines of the tracks have taken shape after a cut and fill project moved 2½ million yards of earth from the north section of the project to form 50-foot hills on the south side for the grandstand area.

Even so, the backstretch will be between 20 and 25 feet higher than the front straightaway so fans will be able to see all

Fighters Spare No Words

NEW YORK (AP) — In one of the hottest fight attractions in years, unbeaten Joe Frazier defends his six-state piece of the world heavyweight title against Jerry Quarry Monday night in a 15-rounder that could finish in an explosive knockout within five rounds.

Although neither of the young fighters ever has been stopped, both have predicted early fireworks at Madison Square Garden.

"There ain't no way he's gonna go five," retorted Frazier, of Philadelphia, "He's gonna get burned earlier than that if he comes after me like he says he will. He knows that if he don't come out I'm gonna go after him. I'm comin' after him no matter what and he knows it."

The 25-year-old champion, winner of all 23 of his pro fights and 20 of them by knockouts, has been a solid favorite ever since the fight was made. He is expected to step into the Garden ring the choice at better than 2-1.

With ticket prices ranging from $10 to $100, Harry Markson, the Garden's boxing director, forecast a crowd of more than 15,000 would pay upwards of $500,000.

Navy To Open Penn State Card

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — Penn State's 1969 football schedule features seven hold-over foes, two opponents which return to the card after a year's absence and one which will be meeting the Nittany Lions for the first time.

Navy, the opening test for the third straight season, Kansas State, West Virginia, Syracuse, Boston College, Maryland and Pitt are the teams returning from the 1968 schedule. Penn State defeated all of them last year enroute to a perfect 10-0 season and an Orange Bowl berth.

North Carolina State and Ohio University return to the schedule after a one-year absence. The Lions defeated North Carolina State, 13-8 in a 1967 thriller and a week later beat Ohio University 35-14.

Colorado, a Sept. 27 Band Day opponent, will make its first appearance on a Penn State football schedule. The series will continue in 1970 when the Lions travel to Boulder. Penn State plays two Big Eight opponents this year, taking on Kansas State Oct. 4 at Manhattan.

Senate Passes Bill to Create State Dept. of Transportation

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Senate passed, 33-10, Tuesday a bill to create a Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT) after stifling complaints it was spawning a new administrative monster.

Senate Republicans, meanwhile, turned back an effort by the minority Democratic caucus to embarrass Gov. Shafer by forcing him to admit spiraling relief costs were creating a deficit in state funds this fiscal year.

In the House, a Republican-sponsored amendment to exempt school teachers from a public employees' collective bargaining bill passed 107-87.

The bill was backed by organized labor. The AFL-CIO and most Democrats opposed the amendment but the power of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, which claims to represent 80 per cent of the state's teachers, held sway and the amendment passed.

The PennDOT bill was a victory for the Shafer administration, which followed recommendations of Shafer's Committee for Transportation.

PennDOT would amalgamate state's scattered air, water and ground transportation interests into one department. This would include the current Highways Department; vehicle licensing and traffic safety activities of the Department of Revenue; rail programs under the Department of Commerce and Mass Transportation activities now under the Department of Community Affairs.

Sen. Clarence Bell, R-Delaware, said the bill would set up "a transportation czar" and

Sen. William Lentz, R-Dauphin, said he was opposed to "more bureaucracy."

Bell also said he was worried that current executives in the Highways Department "would gravitate toward leadership" in the new all-transit agency.

Senate Democrats had proposed an amendment to increase an emergency appropriation sought by Gov. Shafer for public assistance payments from $7 million to $33 million.

Sen. John F. Byrne Jr., D-Philadelphia, said $33 million was what the Governor actually needs to pay all the state's welfare bills incurred this year.

"This year — for the sole reason that it wants to avoid showing a deficit — the administration is attempting to defer payments for one month," said Byrne. "Next year it may be two months, and then three, and so on."

The vote split almost evenly along party lines with only one of the 23 Republicans on the Senate floor voting with the Democrats for the amendment, which failed 20-22.

The bill itself passed 40-2 and was sent to the House for approval.

The House amendment to the public employees bargaining bill was sought because the PSEA wants a separate collective bargaining bill for teachers, contending they are different from other public employees because of the nature of their work.

The bill itself, amended earlier by Republicans, was in such a state that there were indications that the bill would be held up until a reading of labor leaders could be obtained.

Meanwhile, both Republican and Democratic lawmakers said they were ready to scrap this bill and introduce other proposals already before the Senate state government committee.

In other action: The Senate forced back to committee a State Police-backed bill to set up a computerized information file for state law enforcement agencies. The bill

Collective Bargaining: Not for State Teachers

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House voted Tuesday to exempt school teachers from a bill that would grant the right to collective bargaining to public employees.

The vote was 107-87 and came on a motion by Rep. Eugene R. Geesey, R-York. Most Republicans voted for the amendment, while most Democrats opposed it.

The amendment also was opposed by organized labor, but favored by the Pennsylvania State Education Association which wants teachers covered by separate legislation.

House Democratic Leader K. Leroy Irvis said he did not know whether he would call the bill up for a final vote on Wednesday, as had been originally scheduled.

The intent of the amendment was more to cripple the bill than anything else, as House Republicans generally objected to it. Republican Leader Lee A.

was opposed by the American Civil Liberties Union on grounds it was so vaguely worded it would constitute an invasion of privacy under some circumstances.

A bill was passed unanimously by the Senate to relax the law requiring school days to run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday to allow "meritorious education programs."

The House defeated a proposed amendment that would prohibit the city of Philadelphia from levying a wage tax exceeding 2 per cent on non-residents.

Donaldson Jr. said he planned to introduce alternative proposals on Wednesday, one of which is backed by Gov. Shafer.

Both proposals were introduced in the Senate earlier and have been subjected to public hearings. One is backed by the Pennsylvania School Boards Association.

Donaldson, noting the recent wave of teacher strikes, said the state needed a new public employee law, but that the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO bill failed to go far enough.

The administration proposal would establish a set of arbitration procedures in disputes involving public employees, including school teachers.

Irvis said he planned to co-sponsor another alternative proposal which would grant public employees the limited right to strike, a recommendation recently made by a commission appointed by Shafer.

Officer Suspected of Negligence Refuses to Testify in Evans Case

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — The key American witness refused to testify on constitutional grounds Tuesday, temporarily halting an investigation into the collision of the Australian carrier Melbourne and the U.S. destroyer Frank E. Evans.

This posed a problem for the joint U.S.-Australian investigative board and threatened to prevent it from achieving its goal. Lt. (j.g.) Ronald C. Ramsey, 24, who has been told he is "suspected of negligence" that led to the accident, asked to be permanently excused from the inquiry.

The board of high-ranking officers quickly went into secret session with its legal counsellors and later said the decision on the request would be announced at its next open session, presumably Wednesday.

Ramsey, officer of the deck on the Evans at the time of the collision, is protected by U.S. military law. Although not "charged" with anything, he may refuse to answer questions or terminate any interviews.

He and Lt. (j.g.) James A. Hopson, 27, Kansas City, Kan., have been advised by the board they are "suspected of the offense of negligence hazarding a vessel of the armed forces."

Hopson testified Saturday that Ramsey gave the order turning the Evans directly in front of the carrier. The subsequent collision sank half of the destroyer and killed 74 of her crew.

The board was formed to uncover all the facts surrounding the June 3 crash but if Ramsey does not testify it is unlikely all the facts will be known.

The New York Stock Exchange lists some 1,300 conglomerates of the 1,300,000 corporations in the United States. The conglomerates produce 90 per cent of the steel, 9.3 per cent of the copper, 95 per cent of the aluminum and most of the automobiles. They also account for 86 per cent of the electric power, 91 per cent of the telephones, 95 per cent of the passenger air travel and 97 per cent of rail freight.

Local Corruption Blamed For Organized Crime

PITTSBURGH (AP) — One of the Nixon Administration's top law enforcement officials told the U.S. Conference of Mayors Tuesday organized crime couldn't exist without local corruption, but Philadelphia's police commissioner, Frank Rizzo, called the claim "hogwash."

The dispute between Charles H. Rogovin, administrator of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, and Rizzo came near the close of a workshop on local law enforcement.

Rogovin administers the Safe Streets Act which has been under attack by the nation's big city mayors. He defended the act and raised

State Will Probe Gang Killings In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — State Atty. Gen. William C. Sennett said Tuesday the Pennsylvania Crime Commission is going to launch an immediate probe into the senseless gang killings in Philadelphia and hopes to come up with some kind of solution that can be put into effect this summer.

Sennett named Richard M. Goldberg, a 31-year-old Wilkes-Barre lawyer, special counsel for the probe.

Juvenile gang-related slayings in the state's largest city have reached 22 so far this year, compared to 30 in all of 1968 and 12 in 1967.

Gov. Shafer, citing his concern for the street murders, directed the commission to search for causes and make quick recommendations.

near the end of his talk a series of questions posed by the existence of organized crime. "Why are so many of its operations, like bookmaking and number operations, conducted so brazenly in the open?" he asked. "Why are there so few local prosecutions of policemen and other public officials on corruption charges, especially in view of the fact that organized crime cannot flourish without such corruption?" he continued.

Rizzo took the floor during the question and answer session. He said he disputed the contention that organized crime exists only because of collusion with local authorities.

"I say hogwash, I'd rather use other English," Rizzo said. Rizzo went on to defend police. "They are doing something right," he said. "They have stemmed crime in the city that I'm responsible for."

Rogovin stood firm. "I don't back off anything I said in commenting on organized crime," he said. He said he was not referring to any particular communities and that "it is not a partisan comment."

He cited what he termed extensive documentation of the claim, and repeated, "Organized crime does not flourish anywhere without corruption...the issue is how do we dig into the responsibility to eradicate the problem."

Rizzo is considered one of the nation's most effective police commissioners and one of the most controversial. He came up from the ranks to head the police department in the country's fourth largest city.

Philadelphia Mayor James H. Tate, and fellow panelist, Minneapolis Mayor Arthur Naftalin, both hit at the Safe Streets Act passed by Congress in 1968. It was designed to develop a comprehensive attack on crime through a system block grants funneled through the states.

Advisory Group Urges State To Help Build New Towns

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer's Science Advisory Committee urged Tuesday that Pennsylvania get into the business of helping to build new towns.

The committee said the new town concept is the alternative to urban sprawl "which continues to grow out of control around our metropolitan areas."

The project would require enabling legislation, but Shafer told newsmen he doesn't think it will be forthcoming in the current session. He added that the lawmakers have about all they can handle for the foreseeable future just dealing with his budget.

Basically, under the task force recommendations, the state would help private enterprise build the towns away from congested areas with the help of financial inducements, condemnation, zoning, highway systems and relevant programs.

The enabling legislation would include such financial inducements as interest guarantees and tax-free dividend status.

No initial or long range cost to the state was specified in the report.

The new town concept has been under study for nearly a year by the committee, which has made trips to observe similar projects in other states.

At present, a new town development is underway in the New Stanton area of Westmoreland County where the Chrysler Corp. is building an assembly plant.

In receiving the report, Shafer observed that the new town concept "should not be planned for a specific industry." The new town theme has been a favorite of Shafer's for some time. On a recent trip to Britain, he inspected a new town project outside London.

Shafer also serves on the National Committee on Urban Growth, which recently recommended that the U. S. build 110 cities to help accommodate the growing population for the remainder of the 20th Century.

The advisory report noted that by 1975 three-fourths of the nation's population is expected to be living in metropolitan areas and that by the year 2,000 the U. S. is expected to have an additional 100 million population.

The projected figures for Pennsylvania were not given. However, at present more than 50 per cent of Pennsylvania's 11.3 million-plus population is jammed into 10 per cent of the land.

The report said that one of the major problems is the assembly of necessary large acreages, usually between 5,000 and 15,000 acres, under one ownership.

It noted that "Pennsylvania has many large, favorably located holdings along or accessible to major transportation routes which merit evaluation," and suggested that reclaimed strip mine areas also are potential sites.

The possibility of establishing publicly authorized corporate structures that might work with private investors in new city developments also was suggested.

The report recommended that statewide comprehensive planning should be the basis for such development with the State Planning Board having the final say. The board would approve master plans for new towns as a condition for availability of special state benefits or assistance.

It called on the administration to determine the legislation that is needed to facilitate or encourage construction of complete, planned new towns or cities and expedite consideration of such legislation by the General Assembly.

Registration Begins

Registration begins today for free instruction at the Warren Borough Swimming Pool and will last through Friday, June 20. A parent or guardian must accompany each child who registers.

Only 60 youngsters can register for each of the three sessions, including June 24-July 12, July 15-Aug. 2 and Aug. 5-23. Hours for registration are 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 4 to 7 p.m. each day.

Donaldson urged the Democratic leadership to begin consideration for GOP-sponsored stop-gap appropriations, totaling $330 million, which would operate state government for the months of July and August.

Record Peach Crop Expected In State

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service Tuesday forecast a state peach crop of 120 million pounds, largest since 1960, and 13 per cent higher than last year.

The pear crop was expected to total 3,200 tons, down 2 per cent from last year while the sweet cherry crop was pegged at 1,100 tons.

Peach harvesting has begun in Adams, Franklin and York counties with a few acres harvested in Columbia and Northumberland counties, the service said, adding that yields are near normal.

Rapid growth was reported for potatoes throughout the state. Transplanting of the Lancaster County crop is nearly completed and first cutting alfalfa is three-fourths harvested, the service said.

Milk production totaled 664 million pounds in May, an increase of 1 per cent over the previous year. An estimated 291 million eggs were produced in May, up 8 per cent from one year ago.

EISENHOWER HIGH HOSTS CONFERENCE

Seventy-five educators from Erie, Crawford and Warren counties attended a two-day conference at Eisenhower High School on "The Technology of Teaching and Learning" June 13-14. Major presentations and group discussions were led by four outstanding educators from different areas of the U.S., including Dr. Henry Bissess, D.P.L., Vermont; Dr. Albert Potter,

Wendell H. Coltin, award-winning Social Security columnist, will write the "It's Your Money" column starting today in the Warren Times-Mirror and Observer.

Coltin, cited by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for his "imagination and sympathetic understanding" in dealing with the problems of senior citizens, will bring to TMO readers the same up-to-date and informative writing which earned him more than 60 awards for his regular Social Security series in the Boston Herald.

Written in a lucid and easy-to-read style, "It's Your Money" will keep TMO readers informed on the very latest changes affecting Social Security and Medicare, as well as answering questions pertaining to the special problems of securing a comfortable retirement.

Coltin joined the Boston Herald in 1954 after working on suburban Massachusetts papers — his first job was that of a high school correspondent at age 14. He edited base newspapers during World War II and was the first stateside newsmen to interview German rocket expert Wernher von Braun upon his secret arrival in this country late in 1945. The story remained a military secret for almost two years!

Coltin's "Medicare Mailbox" received more than 20,000 letters in one year from Boston readers alone, demonstrating his ability to cover the vital subjects of Social Security and Medicare. His interest now, he says, is to keep up with the "many changes" in the Social Security regulations which will continue to affect benefits for years to come.

A father of four children—two in college, two in grade school —Mr. Coltin resides with his wife and family in Haverhill, Mass.

Sugar Grove Fire

SUGAR GROVE—A gas tank and fuel oil tank at the William Black farm, RD 2, were destroyed by fire Tuesday morning.

Fire charred one wall of the Black home, broke windows in the house and melted tar on the outside wall. Mrs. Black said the family was all safe and the inside of the house was not damaged by the fire.

REFLECTIONS

By Betty Rice

The Class of 1949 of Warren High School is planning another reunion and the 49'ers will be getting together again to celebrate its 20th class reunion Saturday, July 5 at Jackson Valley Country Club. We're told however that to date only about 85 reservations have come in. Most of these are from former students now out of town and the "locals" are slipping. Time is growing short and there's a lot to be done. Members are urged to fill out the form at the bottom of the flyer sent and return it with your reservation at once to Class of 1949, P.O. Box 184, Warren, Pa. And if you can't make it, return the information form anyway so the Class Booklet can be brought up to date. There's to be an informal social hour at 5:30 p.m.; class picture taken at 7 p.m. and dinner promptly at 7:30 p.m. The rest of the evening can be spent dancing and renewing old friendships.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. (Harry) Campbell, Crescent Park, Warren, met for a family reunion at the home of their eldest son, William of Starbrick, last Saturday. This was the first time the family had been together for 10 years. Besides Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell of Starbrick, those present included the Rev. and Mrs. Milton Campbell of Duluth, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Campbell and family of Greensburg, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Feiro of St. Petersburg, Fla. There were 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren present with dinner served at 6 p.m. for 26 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Phillips Sr., Clarendon, Pa., had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Edquist, son, Eric and daughter, Joy, from Englewood, Colo. Mr. Edquist is Mrs. Phillips' son. Also present were Mrs. Marie Wade and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrison of Tiona.

It was definitely Ladies Night Monday evening when members of the day staff of the Times-Mirror and Observers gathered at the home of Trudy Stanton on the Russell-Lander Road to attend a bridal shower for our own April Reid Messerly. Sue Allen of the front office was co-hostess for the affair which featured a series of unusual games and delicious refreshments, the latter created by Trudy's mother, Mrs. John Stanton.

Gleaned from an area newspaper: The senior hi youth went home from school to find a note in his mother's handwriting pinned to the back of the door -- "Take off your shoes." On into the kitchen where another note was fixed to the refrigerator. "Take off your socks." Intrigued by the scavenger hunt, he proceeded further to a third note in the dining room: "Are your feet clean?" End of the trail--new carpeting in the living room.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm mad at myself, ashamed, disgusted and upset. Can you help me?
I'm 16, a girl and the world's worst crybaby. If I get bawled out by a teacher I cry. If my team loses I cry. If somebody yells at somebody else I feel sorry for the person getting yelled at and I cry. It wouldn't be so bad if I cried in private but I don't. I cry right in front of everybody. And it shows for an hour after. My eyes get red and swollen. Once a friend came up to me and asked if somebody had died.
I hate myself for being so sensitive. Is there a solution to this problem or am I going to swim in tears for the rest of my life?—DAMP HANKIES

Dear Damp Hank: Accept the fact that you're a crier and you'll always be one. It's part of your emotional pattern. Accept the fact, too, that it isn't all bad. Crying is a healthy way to relieve tension. People who can't cry are in serious trouble. Since your inability to hold back the waterworks is embarrassing, excuse yourself promptly when you feel the tears coming—and have your cry in private.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 66 years old and retired. In the past few months you've printed letters from people who have lost weight through some unconventional method. I hope you'll print my letter, although it may sound crazy. It might not work for everybody but it took 20 pounds off me and my doctor said it has added years to my life.

I read somewhere it's not WHAT you eat but WHEN you eat that counts. The idea is to pack in a whopping big breakfast burn up the calories during the day and go to sleep at night on a light stomach.

I was never much of a breakfast eater, in fact I had the idea I couldn't eat much in the morning. I used to grab a cup of coffee and a piece of toast on the run.

I decided to try the new routine and it worked wonders. Yesterday my breakfast consisted of a large glass of orange juice, a plate of spaghetti and meat balls a half pint of ice cream on a slab of cherry pie. Of course after that I couldn't eat much lunch or dinner. A light snack satisfied me.

If people say to you, "That's not for me. I can't eat in the morning," tell them they can if they really want to. I know because I'm doing it.—STREAMLINED AT 66

Dear Streamlined: I can't argue with your results but I wouldn't recommend your kooky diet to anyone else. The only safe way to lose weight is to reduce the intake of calories while maintaining balanced nutrition—under the watchful eye of a physician, of course.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MR. AND MRS. EDWIN FREDD

United In Marriage

Miss Nancy L. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Johnson, 44 Hedges avenue, Jamestown, N. Y., and Mr. Edwin Fredd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Fredd, 511 Gornito Lake Road, Brandon, Florida, were united in marriage at 12:00 noon, Saturday, June 14, 1969 in First United Methodist Church of Falconer, N. Y.

The Rev. Philip W. Schlick performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of 200 guests. The altar was decorated with arrangements of white pompons, gladioli and candelabra. Mrs. Lillian E. Morton provided organ music and Miss Joyce N. Jones was soloist.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white organza made with a fitted bodice of chantilly lace, sabrina neckline embroidered with sequins and pearls and long, traditional sleeves of lace that ended in points over the bands. The full skirt was fashioned in four tiers of organza, each applied with chantilly lace edge. At the back neckline was a detachable court train of organza applied at the edge with matching lace.

Her veil of illusion was attached to a forward headpiece of lace petals embroidered with seed pearls and aurora borealis crystal. She carried a long cascade arrangement of white sweetheart roses with white miniature carnations and ivy.

Mrs. Francis E. Fredd Jr. of Grand Island, N. Y., was matron of honor and wore a floor length skimmer gown of maize chiffon over taffeta which featured a floating back panel. Venice lace daisies circled the standup collar and sleeves. Her headress was a matching yellow daisy pillbox hat with butterfly veil and she carried a cascade of apricot daisies.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Parkman, sister of the bride; Mrs. Robert C. Johnson, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Ann Marie Swanson. They were dressed the same as the honor attendant only in apricot and carried cascades of maize daisies with ivy and streamers.

Miss Heidi Conaty, a niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She was gowned in miniature to the matron of honor and carried a white basket of apricot daisies and ivy. The bridegroom's nephew, Steven Conaty, was ringbearer.

Francis E. Fredd Jr., Grand Island, N. Y., a cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Charles Diehl, Jamestown, N. Y.; Thomas Smith, North Clymer, N. Y. and John Flynn, Marietta, Ohio.

The bride's mother wore a mint green tiered sheath dress with matching rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a beige sheath dress with matching lace overcoat, burnt orange accessories and matching rose corsage.

The wedding reception was held in Hough Hall at the church where decorations featured white wedding bells, maize and apricot pompons. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Olson were master and mistress of ceremonies and aides were Mrs. Dorothy Boss, Mrs. Brigitta Overcash, Mrs. Linda Hepler, Miss Linda Lundin and Miss Marilyn Lamarcia.

For a wedding trip to Canada and the Thousand Islands, the new Mrs. Fredd wore a blue linen dress with blue-lace trimmed collar and matching rose corsage.

The couple will make their home in Niobe, N. Y.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Jamestown High School and is employed as a secretary at Comman, Dann and Company, Inc. The bridegroom is a 1966 graduate of Brandon High School, Brandon, Fla., attended Polk Junior College in Winter Haven, Fla. and is presently employed on a farm in Niobe.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. Norris Whitford, Mrs. Harold Swan, Mrs. H. Carl Bodell, Mrs. Fred Boss, Mrs. Charles Parkman, Mrs. Francis E. Fredd Jr., Miss Ellen Cross, Mrs. Alice Windsor, Mrs. Henning Johnson, Mrs. Thomas Smith and Mrs. Edwin S. Fredd.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Conaty and family, Riverview, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wright, Flint, Mich.

Engagement

MISS ALEXANDER

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Alexander, Russell, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha, to Thomas J. Ginzl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ginzl, Rhinelander, Wisconsin.

Miss Alexander, a 1961 graduate of Warren Area High School, received her B. A. degree in English and Music from Marietta College in Marietta, Ohio. She is a member of Kappa Sigma. At present, Miss Alexander is living in Bloomington, Minnesota and is employed by Northwest Oriental Airlines as a stewardess.

Mr. Ginzl, of Bloomington, Minn., is a graduate of University of Wisconsin at Madison, where he was a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon. He has a B.S. degree in Chemical Engineering and is presently employed as an Engineering Supervisor in the Duplicating Products Division of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company.

The wedding is planned for October 4, 1969.

Altar Society

St. Joseph's Altar Society will hold a picnic at 6 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at Crescent Park. Members are to bring tureen, table service and rolls. Coffee will be furnished by Marie McGarry and Mary Scalzo. In case of rain the picnic will be held in the school basement.

MRS. JOHN C. TITCHNER

Married In Falconer

First United Methodist Church of Falconer, N. Y., was the scene at 8 p.m., Saturday, June 14, 1969 of the wedding of Sandra Kay Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Newton, RD 2, Sinclairville, N. Y. and John Charles Titchner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Titchner, 24 Warren Road, Frewsburg, N. Y.

The Rev. Philip Schlick and the Rev. W. George Thornton, Rochester, N. Y. performed the double ring ceremony by candlelight. Miss Michele Allison of Frewsburg was organist and Miss Joyce Jones of Jamestown, N. Y., soloist.

The bride wore a floor length gown of organza over taffeta made with empire bodice, modified scoop neckline, long traditional sleeves and A-line skirt. The bodice, skirt front and sleeves were appliqued with pearly peau d'ange lace. At the back empire line was a detachable chapel length train of organza also appliqued with pearly peau d'ange lace.

Her veil of illusion was attached to a forward headpiece of pearly lace petals and she carried a crescent of white roses and white carnations with pearly white ribbon.

Janis Naugh, Fair Lawn, N. J., a college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor and was attired in Nile green organza made with empire bodice. Her veil was of emerald green and she carried a cascade of white carnations and chartreuse orchids. Nancy and Joyce Newton, cousins of the bride from Sinclairville, N.Y., were bridesmaids and wore gowns of Nile green organza and bristle veils attached to Nile green ribbon loops. They carried cascades of white carnations and shaded pink orchids.

Robert Kennedy of Kennedy, N. Y. served as best man for the bridegroom and ushers were David Christian, Jamestown, N. Y. and James Davis, Warren, Pa.

The wedding reception for 200 guests was held in Hough's Hall at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shaffer, Cherry Creek, N. Y. uncle and aunt of the bride, were master and mistress of ceremonies. Aides were Shirley Boza, Killbuck, N. Y.; Kathy Pagett, South Dayton, N. Y.; Krista Smith, Jamestown, N. Y.; Jeanne Miller, Cassadaga, N. Y.; Sandra Torrey, Sinclairville, N. Y. The bride's sister, Susan Newton, was in charge of the guest book.

Following a honeymoon trip to Wisconsin and home through Canada, the couple will reside at 24 Warren Road, Frewsburg, N.Y.

John graduated from Frewsburg Central School, attended Warren Campus of Edinboro State College and graduated from Cornell University in 1968. He is employed by the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture in Jamestown, N. Y. as a soil conservationist.

Susan graduated from Cassadaga Valley Central School and attends Ithaca College where she is studying physical therapy.

Beathea Circle

Twelve members of Beathea Circle of United Epworth Methodist Church met in the social room for a tureen dinner, this being the final meeting of the year.

Mrs. Eva Heald, chairman, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Frances Gifford gave devotions reading the first chapter of John and an article taken from the Sunday Digest, "Never Return an Empty Plate."

Mrs. Willis Anderson, who has been a missionary in India will be guest speaker at the WSCS meeting when the circle is in charge of the program.

Chicken Barbecue

Akeley Grange Hall on Saturday, June 21, will be the scene of the annual Chicken Barbecue with scalloped potatoes, cabbage salad, rolls, pickles and applesauce. Home-made pies will also be featured and serving hours are from 5 until 8 p.m.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES R. DeLONG

Were Wed In Oil City

First United Methodist Church of Oil City was the scene on Saturday, June 7, 1969 of the wedding of Linda Diane Hoffman and James Robert DeLong.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Hoffman, 336 Crestview Drive, Oil City, Pa. and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldo K. DeLong, 1210 E. Fifth ave., Warren, Pa.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of organza, fashioned with a fitted bodice and semi-belled skirt. Venice lace and sheer ruffles edged the high, rounded neckline, and full length sleeves. Lace edged the Watteau chapel-length train. Her bouffant veil of French illusion was secured by a sheer, semicrown headpiece trimmed with Venice daisies.

Her attendants wore identically-styled floor-length gowns of yellow chiffon designed with sheath skirt, high neckline and full-length sleeves. A matching looped headpiece with circular veil completed their outfits.

The bride carried an orchid bouquet trimmed with stephanotis. The attendants' flowers were cascades of tangerine carnations highlighted with green ribbon streamers. The altar was graced with bouquets of carnations and gladioli.

Miss Sharon Prete of Pittsburgh served the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Ann Keating of Oil City and Miss Veronica Light. The bridegroom's brother, Eldo DeLong Jr. attended as best man. The guests were ushered to their seats by Michael Fassler and John P. DeLong, another brother.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social room. Mrs. James P. Prognier and Mrs. Ralph Mook served as aides.

The bride is a sophomore education student at the University of Pittsburgh, where she will continue her studies in the fall. The bridegroom is a reading teacher in the Oil City Public Schools.

The couple will reside on Fourth Street in Oil City for the summer.

Kinzua Campers

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
Short of skirt hangers? Just take a plain wooden one and push a thumbtack three-quarters of the way down near each end of the hanger to hook the skirt loops on it. It can be spray-painted if desired.

Marguerite Nelson
And you're just as sharp as that tack, too, for thinking of this clever trick. Thanks heaps.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
DEAR HELOISE:
"HELP!" I'm being held prisoner by a messy, disorganized house and four messy, disorganized kids. I would certainly throw in the towel this morning if I could find a clean one, that is. Frustrated

DEAR HELOISE:
Why don't manufacturers put permanent measuring dents in cake pans—like the ones in measuring cups???

A Reader
DEAR HELOISE:
Here's a very simple trick that saves tempers: When folding documents, business letters, operating instructions or any other standard-size paper, try folding it with the writing on the outside.

This provides instant identification when searching through desk or drawer for that misplaced paper. You don't waste time folding and refolding everything you come across.

Mrs. R. Bendezi
DEAR HELOISE:

To assemble a jigsaw puzzle, I get a grocery carton and cut two pieces from it about four inches larger than the finished size of the puzzle. Next I cut the center out of one piece of the exact size of the puzzle and glue the two pieces together.

Then I start assembling the puzzle inside the opening. When finished, I have a picture already framed.

If the measurement is right, the picture fits tightly without gluing. And, of course, the frame can be painted or colored and the entire picture covered with a coat of clear varnish.

DEAR HELOISE:

In the summer we keep our TV trays on the patio.

A plastic dry cleaner's bag fits over them with a clothespin at the bottom to keep the wind from blowing it off.

The trays are always clean and ready for use.

Mrs. A. Readen
DEAR HELOISE:

When we expect company for dinner, I fill the ice tea glasses with ice at my convenience and put them into the freezer.

Then during the hectic time when I'm trying to get the food on the table, hot things hot and cold things cold. I don't have to stop and mess with ice trays. Besides, glasses are chilled and the tea gets icy quicker.

Mrs. Middleton
DEAR HELOISE:

While visiting with my daughter recently, I was hanging my clothes in her closet and noticed such a wonderful scent of pine.

She told me she had painted a pine cone with pine oil. I tried it when I got home and it's wonderful.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠

A momentary panic, induced by his failure to count declarer's distribution resulted in West's cashing out prematurely and thereby presenting South with his four spade contract.

West opened the jack of hearts. Declarer put up dummy's ace and then ruffed out the queen to clear the suit. The ace of spades was cashed, followed by a small spade and West was in with the king.

West feared that South would shortly be able to obtain several diamond discards on North's club suit, and in a moment of panic, West cashed the ace of diamonds in the desperate hope that East would have the king. With that gesture, he sealed his own doom and South claimed 10 tricks.

A brief count of declarer's distribution would reveal to West that no active measures were required, and that a purely passive defense would produce whatever tricks were available to his side. South is known to have five spades and a heart by actual count. He is, therefore, marked with seven cards in diamonds and clubs. No matter how these seven are distributed between the two suits, South will still be left with two diamonds after he has taken all of his discards and must ultimately play that suit himself.

West should cash the ace of clubs, exit with a small club and permit nature to take its course. South can discard one diamond on the long club, but when he leads a diamond from dummy, his king loses to West's ace and on the return, East scores the setting trick with the queen of diamonds.

Declarer could have landed his contract by taking the heart finesse on the opening lead. On the basis of West's one heart opening and free bid later—it was not at all unlikely that he would have two aces and two kings, in which case two discards would be necessary to assure the loss of only one diamond trick. If declarer takes the heart finesse, he can get rid of one diamond on the ace of hearts and another on the fifth club.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR WEDNESDAY, JUNE 18, 1969.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Mars, in benefic aspect, urges continued interest in projects already started. Solid ventures can be advanced substantially. Side-step distracting time-wasters.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Avoid confusion through proper pre-planning. Weigh well the pros and cons when you must render a decision. Emphasize your humor and common sense.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Jack up sagging productivity, revise the format of programs which seem to get nowhere. A change of pace, direction, momentum may be the answer. Give this adequate thought.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—A personal problem? Take it in stride. Just don't neglect essentials in the meantime. In time off, really relax.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Keep eyes focused on primary objectives. Coordinate efforts to obtain maximum results. Give prompt attention to urgent matters.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Why settle for less than the best when it is within your ability to accomplish so much? (This may be a tendency now.) At the same time, stick to systems and procedures which have proven successful in the past.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Supplement present program with new and vital additions. Progress indicated if methods are updated to meet current demands. Seek wise counsel from experts.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—In a wide variety of aims, concentrate on the one which offers the greatest probability of worthwhile success. Do not be vexed by snide remarks, gossip.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Think things out carefully before taking action, and you will save innumerable steps. Study, read, discuss, become familiar with all phases of your endeavor to insure best results.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—An analytical look at your position may indicate some new avenues to pursue. Keep an easy yet alert eye on future moves. Taper off in late hours to relax.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Uranus not too auspicious. This means more consolidated effort, perhaps an adjustment of your schedule, the better to suit changing requirements.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Your fine imagination, used constructively, will win out now. Never mind detractors. YOU are one of the UP-graders. Compete; help form new plans.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly intelligent, imaginative; have a buoyant, magnetic personality. Your versatility is outstanding and you could succeed in almost any field of your choice, but would probably find your greatest happiness working in the worlds of literature, music, travel, research, journalism or statesmanship. Because of their ingenuity and organizational gifts, many Geminians have become fine executives but, at heart, they prefer the hum of activity "outside" to sitting placidly behind a big desk. You dislike monotony but MUST learn to accept a certain amount of routine as a way of life. Curb tendencies toward hypersensitivity, unhappiness when others fail to live up to your ideals. Birth-date of: M. Daladier, French statesman.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

RUSTY HINGES
Joints stiffen with advancing age. This is not news to millions of oldsters who get up more slowly and no longer glide about with grace and ease. Mobility of these junctions can be tested and it has been shown that the ability to flex the back is dependent on age in both sexes, but more so in women.

The connective tissue of the skin and the joint capsule becomes stiffer after the age of 50. The fluid that lubricates the hinges loses some of its viscosity and becomes lighter in texture. Some of these changes are associated with osteoarthritis, a condition that usually begins in the cartilages lining the inside of the joints. The covering becomes thin and fragmented and in time, erodes thru to the bone. The ends of the bone thicken and produce an overgrowth that protrudes from the rim as a smooth lip or sharp spur.

Eighty per cent of all people over 50 have X-ray evidence of joint degeneration. But only 5 to 10 per cent develop symptoms that require treatment. It is surprising that even the X-ray reveals many changes, the individual has little or no discomfort. The most commonly involved structures are the fingers, and weight-bearing joints, such as the spine, hips, and knees.

The bony changes associated with osteoarthritis are irreversible, but pain tends to come and go. Aspirin and heat are the best remedies. Cortisone-type products are seldom needed unless pain is severe and disabling. It is advisable to check for gout because one condition may mimic the other and treatments differ.

ENLARGED COLON AT 13
M. M. writes: What causes an enlarged colon in a boy of 13?

REPLY
Megacolon usually is more annoying than serious. The underlying fault is a congenital lack of propulsion power in the rectum. The condition leads to constipation and abdominal distention. In the majority, the dilated intestine can be made to contract with the use of one of the cholinergic drugs. Enemas may be necessary as well as training in bowel habits. Surgery is curative when conservative measures fail.

CORN OIL COCKTAILS
L. B. writes: What are corn oil cocktails used for?

REPLY
To lower blood cholesterol. Several years ago physicians recommended a mixture of corn oil and skim milk powder for this purpose. Today medicines are used along with a low animal fat diet supplemented with vegetable salad oils and polyunsaturated fatty acid spreads.

ANGINAL PAIN ON RIGHT
L. F. writes: I have pain in the right shoulder which the doctor said is angina pectoris. I always thought heart pain was on the left side. Please set me straight.

REPLY
Anginal pain usually involves the left side, but in some, it involves the right shoulder, both shoulders, or neither.

CONSTIPATED CHILD
E. L. writes: How can constipation be cured in a child?

REPLY
By diet—not enemas or laxatives. Add more proteins, fruits, vegetables, cereals, and liquids. We assume that the youngster is otherwise healthy.

LUDLOW AREA NEWS

By MRS. HILDUR WENSTRAN
Phone: 945-6592

Sunday morning service at Moriah Lutheran Church was conducted by the Rev. Carl F. Eliason at 9:30 a.m. He used for his topic, "Wisdom Is Offered" and the choir led by Mrs. Mabelle Nelson sang "Our God Is Great."

The Dossal, hanging above the rear of the altar was blessed and was given as a gift by Mrs. Gustav Olson and son Wayne along with flowers in memory of Gustav Olson. The altar flowers and folders were given by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cox in memory of his father Walter S. Cox.

Mrs. Robert E. Olson, delegate to the Synod Conference meeting in W.Va., gave her report on the business sessions and conference.

The 33rd Nelson Reunion was held at the DeForest Pavilion in Wildcat Park Sunday June 8, 1969 with 99 persons present. A twelve dinner was followed by games and prizes. Those present were from Erie, Jamestown, Frewsburg, Russell, Bradford, Kane, Warren and Ludlow.

Officers elected for the coming year were: president, Mrs. Alva Nelson; vice president, Walter Thurston, sports committee Jack Anderson and Mrs. Mildred Nelson as historian. No deaths occurred during the year and several births were announced. The dinner was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson.

Vacation Bible School will close next Thursday, June 19, when the children will give a program at Moriah Lutheran Church at 7 p.m. The school then will have completed two weeks of study and a display of their work will follow the program.

At 8 p.m. the LCW will hold their meeting with President Mrs. Linnea Olson in charge. The Moriah Churchmen enjoyed a social evening on Thursday when they were guests at the Bert Carlson camp on Gibbs Hill with 11 attending. After a short business discussion and the reading of the minutes Mr. Carlson served refreshments. Then the group took part in outdoor sports.

The Community picnic held at the large pavilion in Wildcat Park at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening was a big success with about 35 present and plenty of good food. It has been decided to have one picnic a month on the second Wednesday of the month during the summer. The next one will be held July 9.

The Hammond Iron Works employees of Warren enjoyed a picnic at Wildcat Park on Saturday, June 14 with an estimated crowd of 400 persons attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Algot Swanson of Ludlow and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Witter Sr. of Port Allegany attended Commencement Ceremonies at Thiel College last Sunday, June 8, when Herbert Witter Jr. graduated. He plans to join the U.S. Air Force.

Miss Carrie Larson, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Larson, was the winner of the Coloring Contest at the Market Basket Store in Kane on Saturday. She was awarded three art books.

Miss Lisa Nord, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Nord of Atlanta, Ga., arrived at the Bradford Airport on Wednesday where she was met by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bernal Connelly. She will be a guest for a while. On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Connelly and Lisa left for Rochester, N.Y. to spend Father's Day and the weekend with Attorney and Mrs. James A. Connelly II and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson and children, Gary, Bonnie, Debbie, Kenny and Neil of Spokane, Wash., arrived by train at the Erie Station where they were met by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Algot Swanson. They will spend a few weeks here with their families.

Mr. Neil Johnson of Fremont, Calif., left Thursday for a month's business trip to Australia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Peterson of Kane and Mrs. Edith Ross of Jamestown, N.Y., went to visit Mrs. Anna Peterson at the C.

Howard Marcy Hospital in Pittsburgh on Saturday. Mrs. Anna Peterson is the mother of Alan Peterson and a sister of Mrs. Ross.

Wayne Olson, son of Mrs. Helen Olson, arrived home Wednesday from Penn State University. He is employed at the Sylvania Plant in Warren for the summer.

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Olson are having as their guests Mrs. Merle Ashbaugh of Leechburg for a few days.

Mrs. Evelyn Anderson spent the weekend in Warren at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson and daughters, Kristen and Karin, of New Cumberland, Pa., arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Evert C. Johnson to spend Father's Day and to celebrate the fourth birthday of Kristen.

Mrs. Hildur Bailey of Carmichaels, Pa., came Saturday to the home of her brother, Vilgot Mortenson, to care for their brother Joseph Mortenson, recently discharged from Hamot Hospital in Erie. Vilgot leaves on Monday to go on the VASA tour to Sweden and will be gone about 5 weeks.

Miss Emma Wenstran was taken by ambulance to Warren General Hospital on Sunday. Mr. Oscar Mortenson was admitted there Monday for observation.

Mrs. Florence Anderson was discharged from Kane Community Hospital on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jaap and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Drogowski of Pittsburgh, Pa. spent the weekend at their Ludlow summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson attended Commencement exercises at Sheffield High School Wednesday evening, June 11, when their grandson Eric Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson, was one of the graduates. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Price of Bradford also attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson and family from Charleston, Va. are visiting for a few days with his mother, Mrs. Mabelle Nelson and Mrs. Nelson's parents

Seneca Man to Speak At Archaeology Meeting

Prof. Lloyd Bromley of Seneca will speak at the Kinzua Chapter 18, Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology Wednesday, June 18, in the Warren County Historical Society Building.

Mrs. Roy D. Woodard of Mesquite, Texas, represents the 1,500,000th person alive, well and cured of cancer in the United States. That milestone was passed in 1968, according to the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Woodard, mother of two sons, had cancer of the cervix in 1961.

in Kane, Mr. and Mrs. John Servidio.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson and family from Olean, N.Y., have been visiting for a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fetzeck.

Mr. Lloyd Peterson of Kane and Harrisburg visited his brother Ben on Sunday.

Bromley, who recently retired from teaching at the Vengano Campus of Clarion State College, is a graduate of Allegheny College. He received his master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh, studied at Union College on a graduate fellowship from General Electric and won a teachers fellowship to Cologne, Germany. He also studied anthropology at The Pennsylvania State University.

For the past five years Bromley has coached the Skanando Indian Order of the Arrow Boy Scout Dance Team. The lodge has held the Western Pennsylvania championship for the last seven years. Currently Bromley is on the judging staff for the national contest at Bloomington's University of Indiana.

Prof. Bromley will speak on "The Aztec Ruins of New Mexico" at the Wednesday evening meeting. The public is invited to attend.

A report on the state meeting of the Society for Pennsylvania Archaeology, held in Warren last month, will also be given.

UNORTHODOX

YORK, England (AP)—A plan to convert 11 churches that are no longer needed for worship into hotels, restaurants and other profit-making concerns to help the tourist trade has been rejected by the York Redundant Churches Commission.

The plan, advanced by Dr. Brian Morris, senior lecturer in English at York University, drew the support of some clergy.

SOAP BOX DERBY TIME

Several Warren youngsters are getting ready for Saturday's Soap Box Derby, sponsored by the Jaycees and Dan's Chevrolet. Typical of the race drivers is young Scott Anderson, 94 Crestview blvd., shown above with some of his backers. Scott is being sponsored by Local 469 of Warren State Hospital. With him, left to right, are William Burd, union treasurer; Helen Moran, member; and Scott's father, Raymond Anderson, also a member. The derby is set for 10 a. m. on Central ave. (Photo by Mansfield)

Boy Scouts Support New Medical Center

By DONNA SNYDER
Recently Boy Scout Troop 72 of Marienville undertook a project to help raise money for the Medical Center being built in Marienville.
The boys took orders from their Tom-Wat Kits, containing household and other items. After hours of door-to-door selling, receiving the items, delivering and collecting the money the boys were able to proudly present a check in the amount of $300 to Allen Roberts, president of the Marienville Civic Association.
This was a large project for thirteen local boys. The boys participating in the community project were: Brad Huffman, David Kiehl, Owen Quarles Jr., Ed Parrett, Gerry Meese, Ron McDonald, Allen Asel, Bob Shaffer, Steve Taylor, Sam Phillips, Dan Blauser, Dan Henry and Bill McDonald.

HARD AT WORK

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Miss Rowena Sammel and Mrs. Florence Spencer (left to right) are busy packaging goods for the Warren Area Center Booth at the Arts Festival June 21-22.

Edinboro Professor to Demonstrate Jewelry Enameling at Art Festival

KATZWINKLE

Henry Katzwinkle, Edinboro State College professor, will demonstrate the art of Jewelry Enameling at Warren Area League's Festival of the Arts at Warren Area High School June 21-22.

A resident of Erie, Katzwinkle received his bachelor of science degree in art education from Edinboro State College and his master's degree in art education from The Pennsylvania State University. He has also done graduate work at Buffalo's State University College and at Cleveland Institute of Art.

His works have been exhibited at the Three Rivers Art Festival in Pittsburgh; Erie Art Center; the Private Art Gallery, Elmira, N.Y.; and Slide Photography Tri-State Photography Association of Yorkville, N.Y.

Other demonstrations at the two-day festival include pottery, ceramic, steel sculpture, creative stitching, China painting and stained glass art. All events at the festival have been scheduled so that there will be no lull in activity.

Activities begin at noon Saturday and continue until 10 p.m. Sunday's schedule starts at 10 a.m. and lasts until 9 p.m. A Sidewalk Cafe will be open for dining.

Wednesday's TV Highlights

THE VIRGINIAN on Chs. 2, 6 and 12 at 7:30 p.m. features "Last Gasp at Scorro Creek". The Virginian turns detective to prove that an old friend has been falsely accused of robbery.

WEDNESDAY MOVIE on Ch. 11 at 8 p.m. presents "The Best of Enemies" with David Niven and Michael Wilding. This is a satire on the pointlessness of war as told from the points of view of two men, both disgusted by warfare and on opposite sides, but alike in many ways just the same.

KRAFT MUSIC HALL from London stars Tony Sandler and Ralph Young with Judy Carne on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 9 p.m. This week's guests are comedians Frank Gorshin and Norman Wisdom.

Today's Movies

LIBRARY THEATER—"Hard Contract," James Coburn, Lee Remick, 7:10 p.m., 9:20 p.m.

DIPLOMAT PALACE THEATER—"Goodbye Columbus," Richard Benjamin, Jack Klugman, 7:15-9:30.

NEW EGYPTIAN COTTON
CAIRO (AP) — In an effort to boost cotton production and industry, the country's main source of foreign currency, Egypt will produce three new breeds of cotton.

Cotton breeding experts declare experiments on these types of cotton show they will increase productive quantity, yield earlier, and cotton fiber will be longer and stronger.

The minister of Agriculture Sayed Meray declared that these new types of cotton, which will be planted next year, will further increase Egypt's long-staple reputation.

See the nice man.

He is asleep beneath the tree.
The sun is shining, shining, shining.
The birds are singing, singing, singing.
Everything is nice and peaceful and serene.
Do you know why everything is always nice and peaceful here? Because this is not a real world.
It is make believe. It never rains. There is no bad. And nobody ever gets sick. Ever.
Real worlds are different. We know. We work against real cancer in this real world. Every year more and more people are helped to live longer because they go for checkups when they think everything is nice and rosy.
It is the only way they can be helped. If they go. Too many people live in a make-believe world. They put it off and put it off and put it off. Tsk. Tsk. This is naughty, naughty, naughty.
Do you know why we talk to you like this? Simple. When we talk to you like adults, you don't listen, listen, listen.
200,000 were saved last year. Annual checkups can help save thousands more. What are you waiting for?
Help yourself with a checkup. And others with a check.

Avocado Egg Brunch for Two

On the next warm Saturday or Sunday, send the kids to grandma's and fix a romantic brunch for just two. Set a simple table on the terrace and make your husband's bacon and eggs into something special by serving them in an avocado half shell. With this, serve some grapefruit sections and fresh strawberries, and some pastry to be warmed in the toaster. Now add a wine glass full of a light white wine just right for brunch. A really romantic way to let your husband know how much you care.

When choosing the avocado for this serving, select a soft California avocado that yields to gentle pressure. To prepare, cut all the way around, then rotate halves to separate. Remove seed by whacking into it with a sharp knife, then twisting to lift out. Strip or pare skin.

Then follow this elegant man-pleasing recipe.

AVOCADO EGG BRUNCH
4 slices bacon
4 eggs, beaten slightly
3 tablespoons milk or light cream
1 tablespoon finely chopped chives

Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon butter
1 large California avocado, halved and peeled

Fry or broil bacon. Just before bacon is crisp, roll two slices (jelly-roll fashion) with a fork. Continue cooking all bacon until crisp. Drain. Save bacon curls for garnish; crumble strips and add to eggs, milk, chives, and salt and pepper. Melt butter in medium skillet; pour in eggs. Over low heat, allow eggs to set slightly at the bottom; stir to form large curds. Continue until eggs are at a desired degree of doneness. Pile into avocado halves; garnish with bacon curls. Serve immediately. Makes 2 servings.

SOMETHING SPECIAL FOR BREAKFAST

A romantic serving just for two—Avocado Egg Brunch. Serve it on the patio or terrace.

Summer Majesty: Cake and Strawberries

Strawberry desserts are America's summertime favorites, and a cake served with fresh strawberries and cream is the ultimate in summer eating pleasure.

A feathery light sponge cake, delicately spiced, is the base for Celestial Strawberry Dessert, a truly heavenly cake. Enriched corn meal gives the cake delightful texture interest -- just a hint of crunchiness in the crust to complement the creamy filling.

Split into three layers, the cake is reassembled with a filling of slightly sweetened sour cream and sliced fresh strawberries. A frosting of sour cream and a garnish of crimson berries complete this lavishly delicious dessert.

Make colorful Celestial Strawberry Dessert for a festive summer occasion. A large cake, baked in a 10-inch tube pan, it makes generous servings. (If there should be any cake left over, cover it and refrigerate.) This attractive party cake bespeaks regal elegance as well as hearty, distinctive goodness.

CELESTIAL STRAWBERRY DESSERT

Makes one 10-inch tube cake
1 cup milk
1/2 cup enriched corn meal
6 eggs
2 cups granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/8 teaspoon allspice

1 1/2 cups dairy sour cream
2 teaspoons confectioners sugar
2 pints strawberries, sliced and sweetened
Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees F.). Scald milk; gradually add corn meal, stirring constantly; set aside. Beat eggs until thick and lemon colored. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly until light and fluffy. Add vanilla. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, cloves and allspice; stir into egg-sugar mixture. Gradually stir in milk-corn meal mixture.

Four batter into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake in preheated oven (350 degrees F.) 60 to 65 minutes or until golden brown. Invert to cool. Remove from pan.

To assemble, split cake into 3 equal layers. Combine sour cream and confectioners sugar. Reserve 1/2 cup of the sweetened sour cream and 1/2 cup of the sliced strawberries to frost and garnish cake. Mix together the remaining sweetened sour cream and sliced strawberries. Spread 1/2 of this sour cream-strawberry mixture on bottom cake layer; top with second cake layer and spread with remaining sour cream-strawberry mixture. Top with third cake layer. Frost top with reserved 1/2 cup sweetened sour cream. Garnish with reserved sliced strawberries.

FIRST STOP:
SECOND-HAND STORE

CHICAGO (AP) — Second-hand store shopping for furniture when decorating a new home or redesigning an old one can be fun, says a California interior decorator.

Carole Eichen of Fullerton, Calif., advised here it's a good place to look for old wooden iceboxes, weathered wicker chairs, wind-up victrolas, even old church pews.

All can be brought back to life with a coat or two of paint or polish, she says. Mixed with modern furniture, such items add seasoned charm and interesting accents to a home.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF WARREN COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, JACK WILL-ARD STEADMAN versus EVA
C. SANFORD, WILLIAM C.
WALKER, ROBERT E. LEY-
ENDECKER and CHRISTINE M.
LEYENDECKER, his wife,
ROBERT E. LEYENDECKER,
INC., their respective heirs, devisees, personal representatives, successors and assigns, generally, No. 42 May Term 1969

ACTION TO QUIET TITLE
TO: The Defendants, above named, their heirs, devisees, personal representatives, successors and assigns, generally:

You are hereby notified that the Plaintiff above-named has filed a Complaint against you at the above number and term in the Court of Common Pleas of Warren County, Pennsylvania, averring that he is the owner of a certain piece or parcel of land situated in Eldred Township, Warren County, Pennsylvania, being a part of Tract No. 80, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the public road leading from Trimm's Corners to Ray's Corners, corner of land conveyed to George M. Ott by deed of Eva S. Sanford dated December 7, 1922, and recorded in Deed Book 147, page 633; thence south 43 rods, more or less, to the south line of the tract; thence west along said south line 33 rods to a point about 42 rods east of the southwest corner of the tract; thence north to the public road, said point being the southwest corner of lands conveyed to Smith Eastman by deed of Salem H. Saxton and wife dated June 2, 1896, and recorded in Deed Book 79, page 639; thence easterly along the public road 34 rods to the place of beginning, containing 10 acres, more or less.

BEING the same premises which Elmer Van Guilder et ux by deed dated October 10, 1960, recorded in Warren County Deed Book 314, page 536, conveyed to the Plaintiff herein.

The merchantability of the said premises is affected by failure of the records of Warren County to disclose the following items:

- (1) Notification of a Treasurer's Sale of the premises assessed to Robert E. Leyendecker, Inc., in 1946 for unpaid 1944 taxes.
- (2) Notification of a Treasurer's Sale of the premises assessed to William C. Walker in 1930 for unpaid 1927 taxes.
- (3) Payment to Robert E. Leyendecker and Christine M. Leyendecker, or either of them, of a certain balance of money which was to have been paid them on or before September 1, 1947, pursuant to terms of conveyance to B. Lazrus et al.
- (4) Payment of a certain debt to Eva C. Sanford secured by a mortgage dated December 7, 1922 covering the said premises.

You are required to answer the said Complaint on file in the Prothonotary's Office of said Court within twenty (20) days from the publication of this notice or judgment by default will be entered against you.
